RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

An Earnest Appeal by a Pastor to a few Older Members of His Church who are Indifferent.

Beloved in Gospel bonds, during the past few weeks many of the young members, some of them your own dear children, and others who might be persuaded to become Christians in our communion, have wondered and inquired why you do not attend our social prayer meetings from time to time.

I cannot answer. I am sad and silent, for I know not what to say.

Let me, for your children's sake, for your neighbors' sake, for the church's sake, for Jesus' sake, urge you all to duty. The eyes of the young disciples, the eyes of strangers, the eyes of sinners, the eyes of angels are fixed upon every member of this church now—especially those who are parents—as never they were before.

Dear fathers and mothers, do you realize your responsibility just now in this time of God's presence and power? Penitents are seeking the Savior, sinners' hearts are troubled and tender; but because you are absent or indifferent—you whose names are on our church register—there are precious souls bewildered every day! O, how I have missed you—and all the more because I love you! And how the young friends have missed you—and all the more because they love you!

You, who were willing unweary workers for Jesus in former days, why do we not have your co-operation now? Are any sick or infirm and unable to come? Let them send us words of encouragement, and we shall ask heaven's benedictions to rest upon them in their homes. Are there mothers, cumbered by many household cares? Let us receive their sympathy and prayers in this most anxious of all work—the saving of immortal souls. Are there any detained by distance? Let them communicate, in some way, messages of good will in this labor of love.

Let every individual member of this church, without a single exception, before another Sabbath sun shall rise, indicate to the pastor, in some way or other, that he is alive and loyal to the Lord. The time has come in favor Zion; now let every brother and every sister awake and work for Jesus. Every hand, every heart and every voice is needed now. "If any man will be my disciple," says the Master, "let him deny himself, take up his cross, and follow me." Jesus is working in our midst. He comes to lead us to new victories. His banner over us is love. His power in us is love. O ye ransomed believers rally, fall into line, set your faces heavenward, and march to the music of redeeming love!

In our evening meetings for the future who that has health can venture to neglect his duty and stay away?

Come one, come all, come old and young, come rich and poor, come, come, COME UP TO "THE HELP OF THE LORD AGAINST THE MIGHTY." C.

Elder George Balcom, an Evangelist of the the Baptist persuasion, from New York, but more recently from Philadelphia, has commenced a series of meetings in connection with Rev. David Williams, the pastor, at the Baptist Church, in Sharpsburg, to be continued every day and evening for a few weeks. Mr. Balcom labored a few years since at Freeport, Kittanning, Oil City, and other places in Western Pennsylvania with unusual success. There have been upwards of two hundred baptisms under this Evangelist's labors in Philadelphia during the last three months.

Rev. Mr. Washington, pastor of the Union Baptist church, Pittsburgh, has resigned his charge. He has been an earnest, faithful worker in the church, and his place will not be easily filled.

The revival in the First Baptist church, Rev. J. S. Dickinson's, is still going on. The attendance upon the Sabbath services has been greatly increased since the opening of the new and beautiful chapel on Fourth street.

The Noonday Prayer Meetings in the First Methodist church, Fifth street, are still largely attended. The interest is unabated. Almost every day there are incidents of answered prayer related which thrill the hearts of all who hear. The exercises grow more impressive as the young men advance in their Christian experience.

EXCHANGE.—Rev. Henry M. Storrs, D. D., pastor of the Seventh Street Congregational Church, Cincinnati, will preach in the Academy of Music, to-morrow, in exchange with Rev. Henry D. Moore, who has gone to Cincinnati to fill his pulpit. Dr. Storrs is a prominent and popular preacher, and will please the Pittsburgh people.

THE General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (O. S.,) in the United States, will convene in the Central Presbyterian Church, Cincinnati, on Thursday, the 16th day of May next, at 11 o'clock A. M., and will be opened by a sermon by the Rev. Robert L. Stanton, D.D., Moderator of the last Assembly.

WESTERN THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY.—The examination of the classes of this Institution, in Allegheny City, will commence on Monday at 10 A. M., and continue several days, under the direction of Rev. Dr. Riddle, Chairman of the Committee of Directors. The annual sermon before the "Society of Inquiry" will be delivered on Tuesday evening next, the 16th, in the First Presbyterian Church, of Pittsburgh, by the Rev. W. C. Cattell, D.D., President of Lafayette College, Easton, Pa. The closing exercises of the graduating class will take place in the First Presbyterian Church, Allegheny, (Dr. Swift's,) on Wednesday evening, the 17th, at 7 o'clock. There will be brief discourses by the graduates, distribution of diplomas, &c., making a programme of very interesting exercises. The valedictory will be pronounced by Chas. B. Newton, of Lodiana, Indiana, and the farewell by a member of the faculty.

Rev. J. B. Walker, Corresponding Secretary of the Board of Education of the Methodist church, will preach to-morrow, at 10½ o'clock, at the First Methodist church, Fifth street, and the pastor, Rev. Alex. Clarke, will preach for Rev. Jas. Robinson, at the same hour, in the Third Methodist church, Pennsylvania avenue. In the evening Mr. Walker will preach at the Third church, and Mr. Clarke in his own pulpit. Mr. Robinson spends the Sabbath at Bakerstown Methodist church.

ELECTED.—The Rev. Henry Woods, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church, Steubenville, Ohio, has been elected Professor of Languages in Washington and Jefferson College, in the department at Washington. The chair was formerly occupied by Dr. Black, Vice President, who takes charge of the chair of English Literature.

TWENTY-ONE members have been recently added to the church of Salem, Ohio, on profession of faith, and many others are inquiring for the way of salvation.

ONE HUNDRED conversions are reported in the Presbyterian Church of Franklin, Pa. Among the converts are some of the leading lawyers and business men of the county.

THE Presbyterian Church, at Uniontown, Pa., has given a call to the Rev. W. W. Ralston, late of Churchville, Md.

REV. S. F. JONES, late pastor of Liberty Street M. E. Church, Pittsburgh, has been appointed pastor of St. Paul's M. E. Church, Lowell, Mass., one of the finest charges in New England. Mr. Jones is a faithful pastor and a capital preacher.

Rev. Littleton F. Morgan, late of Baltimore, now pastor of Christ M. E. Church of this city, received highly complimentary resolutions expressive of his Christian and ministerial character, at the late session of the Baltimore Conference. He is received in his new and important charge with the warmest welcome, and will find an appreciative audience in Pittsburgh.

The Cumberland Presbyterian Church, on Seventh street, Rev. Mr. Squires, pastor, is in a most flourishing condition. There have been about thirty recent accessions to the membership, and a steady increase in the attendance upon the Sabbath services.

HALF-DAY HEARERS.—Nothing so discourages a pastor as to think of a portion of his membership as half-day hearers. He prepares his evening sermon with as much care as his morning sermon, and with as much reference to the wants and tendencies of his congregation. Yet there are many who might, with but very little inconvenience, attend both evening and morning services, who excuse themselves with one sermon a Sabbath. We believe that, were all ministers to preach but one sermon a Sabbath instead of two, both the sermon and the attention would be better; but as long as the people exact two discourses, from the same speaker, the speaker should exact two hearings from the same audience. There is a charm about a well lighted and well filled church in the sacred Sabbath evening time that should induce the most luke-warm professor to fall in and share the influence, even if there were no other obligations.

But the best of all attractions are the love of souls and a sermon that expresses that love in an earnest, natural manner. Preachers who study the times as well as the theologies are most apt to have full houses and grateful hearings. And almost any live preacher will show his life when the people give him a fair chance by filling the empty pews, and thus appealing to his powers to instruct and entertain. Now that the mild Spring Sabbaths have come, and that there is such general religious interest in these cities, it is to be expected that the churches will be crowded morning and evening. Let every church member resolve to-day to influence at least one to accompany him to divine service to-morrow. If you would improve the preaching, improve the hearing.

THE Rev. Arthur Burtes, D. D., late of Buffalo, New York, died recently in Oxford, Ohio, whither he had lately removed, being appointed Professor of Greek in the Miami University.

THE Rev. James Wood, D. D., who lately resigned the Presidency of South Hanover College, Indiana, and removed to Hightstown, New Jersey, to take charge of a literary institution, died a day or two since, at the latter place. Both the above were highly respectable and useful clergymen in the Old School Presbyterian Church.

A PRESBYTERIAN Church for colored people is about being built in Charleston. It is of size to accommodate 1,500 people. The number of communicants in the church at present is 350.

FOURTEEN young men graduated at the Northwestern Theological Seminary, in Chicago, on Tuesday evening. Nine of them have been already engaged in various churches in the West.

Rev. C. E. Swope, Rector of Trinity Episcopal Church in this city, has resigned his charge here to accept the position of assistant minister of Trinity Church, New York. The resignation takes effect on May 1st.

Closing Scenes of the Legislature.

The Pennsylvania Legislature of 1867 brought its session to a close on Thursday at noon. Louis W. Hall, of Blair county, retired from the Speaker's chair of the Senate, for the second time, which he has graced by his admirable qualifications as a parliamentary officer and excellence of judgment. John P. Glass, of Allegheny county, retires from the chair of the House of Representatives with the good opinion of his fellow legislators as expressed in various tokens of esteem. Col. Glass discharged the duties of his onerous position with a fidelity deserving of this commendation. The new Speaker of the Senate, James L. Graham, Esq., of this county, is a conscientious, upright man, and entitled to the confidence and esteem of the people of the State. The Harrisburg Telegraph justly says of him:

"Modest almost to timidity, he never utters a single word for buncombe; makes no effort to get upon the Record; never speaks unless there is a necessity for it, but when he does, speaks earnestly and fluently, always commanding the attention and respect of the Senate. The elevation of Mr. G. to the Speakership of the Senate of Pennsylvania without solicitation on his part, is an evidence that a quiet, earnest, honest man, whose character is above suspicion and reproach, can and will be appreciated in public life."

Of the retiring clerks of the respective houses, it may be said, without the services of Geo. W. Hammersly in the Senate and A. W. Benedict in the House, the business of the Legislature would have been protracted and delayed. They were faithful and efficient officers, and deserve to be remembered by successive legislatures. Mr. J. R. McAfee, of Westmoreland county, was also remembered in the distribution of favors by the members of the house, for the faithful performance of his duties as assistant clerk. Rresident clerk, Jno. A. Smull, Esq., also shared in tokens of remembrance. On the retirement of Speaker Hall from the chair of the Senate, he was presented with a beautifully wrought gavel by Senator Wallace, of Clearfield, on behalf of clerk Hammersly. In response, Mr. Hall said:

It is, Mr. Speaker, the happiest moment of a man's life when he lays down power, as I have laid it down to-day, to receive at the hands of his friends of two great political organizations, evidence that he has administered that power impartially. One of the ablest parliamentarians and most eloquent speakers that America has produced, said once that he deemed it the distinguishing characteristic of an efficient presiding officer, while rigidly and even sternly adhering to the rules, to do it always in good temper and always impartially. Such has been my aim. The reflection that I have given satisfaction to my brother Senators of both political persuasions makes this indeed the happiest moment of my life. I thank you, Senator Wallace; I thank you, Mr. Clerk; I thank you brother Senators, one and all.

Mr. Graham, upon being sworn as Speaker of the Senate, said:

Senators—In assuming the duties of the position to which your partiality has assigned me, I should be false to every emotion of my heart if I did not say that I am profoundly grateful for the distinguished honor you have conferred upon me. I am not unaware, Senators, that I have been selected, not because of any special qualification which I possess for the discharge of the duties of this position; I know that there are many Senators in this Chamber much more familiar with parliamentary usage and much better qualified than myself, to discharge the duties of your presiding office. I am, therefore, the more highly flattered, because I look upon your selection of me, after an acquaintance and association in the Senate Chamber of five years, as a mark of personal friendship and confidence. I shall endeavor, by an impartial and faithful discharge of duty, to justify the confidence you have reposed in me; and if, when I shall pass the gavel over to my successor, the Senate of Pennsylvania shall say to me, as I now say to our honored retiring Speaker, "Well done, thou good and faithful servant," I shall have attained my highest ambition.

Col. Glass, previous to adjourning the House, made a brief address, in which he said:

It is my pride to say, without fear of being charged with egotism by any one who knows, that the Legislature of 1867 will be long remembered for its great and faithful labors. * * * This House has at least maintained its distinguished character as the popular branch. It has obeyed the popular will. A free railroad law has been matured and passed with great unanimity, and our constituents will welcome us with a hearty "well done!" Its failure elsewhere is not chargeable on us. We can return to them and say, "There's a good time coming; wait a little longer."

Wonderful Ruins in Siam.

Gen. Perrin, a Frenchman, mandarin of the third class, commanding the land forces of the King in Siam, writes to a French paper as follows: "For six days' journey of an elephant, I have traversed the ruins of Ancor-Niat, only penetrating them at intervals, where explorers had been before. What I have seen of monuments, temples, palaces, columns, staircases and piles of marble, connot be told. They would not believe me. The people of the country say that the ruins are spread over a circle of from ten to twelve leagues in diameter. What was the city that existed there, and of what empire was it the capital? I have seen temples in a good state of preservation, (except the vegetation that had sprung up in them) which measured not less than a league round. There are forests of marble columns: everything is of marble. Although some may have disappeared beneath the soil, what remains is far above what we see at Versailles or elsewhere. In some places they are as solid as if built but yesterday. But for the undergrowth and the effect of lightning, these monuments, which the people say are from four to five thousand years old, might be to-day in complete preservation. I regret that I had no photographic apparatus, I assure you, and believe me or not, that the most celebrated monuments of ancient or modern Europe are mere barracks compared with these, while our palaces and basilicas, the Vatican and Coliseum are little better than dog-kennels in comparison. I wished to acend to a temple which appeared to be in a good state of preservation. There were eleven stair-cases, of I know not how many steps, which must be ascended to arrive at the first of the five peristyles. I commenced my upward journey at half-past six in the morning; at half-past seven I had scarcely entered the lower halls. Fearing that I might have to descend the steps in the heat of the day, I was compelled to shorten my visit. The walls are in every part sculptured and ornamented. The first effect which the sight of these monuments produced upon me was one of amazement. I am no amateur to go into ecstacies over small things. The next morning I climbed the winding stair-case of an immense tower, situated on an eminence. Arrived at the summit I enjoyed the sight of the ruins. There are, in localities where I have not yet penetrated, palaces of a height and grandeur truly colossal. With a field glass I examined the details. Their architectural richness is unrivalled, and they extend into the territory of Combodia, a distance of ten or twelve leagues. Picture to yourself how Paris would appear in ruins. A few rough stones, scattered over a diameter of two or three leagues at the utmost. Here there are on the ground, and below its surface, marble already hewn in sufficient quantities to build, even as the giants have built here, all the cities of the universe. I have seen the leg of a statue, the great toe of which was eleven times the length of my hunting rifle. It is in marble like the rest, in fact, there is no other stone near except the pieces of colored marble used for borders, and for the eyes of the statues. There are pedestals of steps, reft of their statues which are more lofty and larger than Saint Germain l'Auxerrois. Think of octagonal pyramids cut off at the middle, and all in marble. Who has done these things? If it was some illustrious dynasty, they can have but little satisfaction with the oblivion that has enveloped their magnificent monuments. The people of the country have no real conception of the builders, although their literature extends back into the centuries much farther than ours.

THE QUESTION OF ADJOURNMENT SETTLED.

Tilt Between Senators Dixon and Ferry.

The Maryland Constitutional Convention.

THE MISSISSIPPI TEST CASE.

Argument in the Supreme Court.

Expedition to Russian America.

Arkansas Moving for an Injunction.

Special Dispatch to the Pittsburgh Commercial.

WASHINGTON, April 12, 1867.

Adjournment.

The Senate spent four hours to-day discussing the propriety of an early adjournment, and it was finally agreed to adjourn on Tuesday next at four P. M. In the debate it was maintained by some of the Senators that the President had delayed sending in nominations for offices long vacant, and several of them said that if the Senate should adjourn and the offices should remain unfilled, the responsibility would rest with the President. Messrs. Dixon and Doolittle defended the President from this charge. Senators Williams, Ferry and Howe took the ground that they would favor the confirmation of able and honest Democrats, while those who opposed adjournment declared that they would sit through the summer before they would consent to confirm a single Democrat for any office.

Before the debate ended, Messrs. Dixon and Ferry had a severe tilt over the Connecticut election. The latter declared that the elections was carried by the foreign vote, while the former said that Sumner's bill to force negro suffrage on all the Northern States was the main cause of the defeat of the Republican party.

No Nominations.

The President sent in no nominations to the Senate to-day, which irritated the Senate not a little. He has yet fifty vacancies to fill on the civil list. It includes mostly postmasters and Internal Revenue officers.

The Maryland Convention

To remodel the Constitution of the State is carried, according to returns received here, by something like nine thousand majority. The convention meets in May.

Argument in the Supreme Court.

There was a large attendance of spectators in the Supreme Court to-day, to listen to the arguments of counsel on the motion to file the bill for an injunction restraining the President from enforcing the reconstruction act in Mississippi. Attorney General Stanbery characterized the whole proceedings as absurd, and declared that it was impossible for the Supreme Court to prevent the President from enforcing the law of the land. Robert J. Walker replied at length on behalf of the application. The action in the Georgia case is not directed against the President, but against military officers, and Charles O'Conner, counsel in that case, claims that the difference from the Mississippi application is wide and important. It is doubtful if a decision is rendered for some days, but it is conceded that it will be adverse in both cases to the application.

Expedition to Our New Domain.

A movement is already on foot to organize an expedition to visit the newly acquired Russian possessions. Application for the use of government vessels, in charge of naval officers, will be made.

Another Injunction Case.

Parties representing the State of Arkansas have nearly completed a bill, which they will ask to file in the Supreme Court, for an injunction against the enforcement of the reconstruction law in that State. Should they fail, it is contemplated to test the constitutionality of the act by making up a case which will come up to the Supreme Court on a regular appeal from the United States Circuit or District Court.

Maximilian.

The State Department has prepared an official copy of Secretary Seward's letters to Count Wydenburk, the Austrian Minister, informing him that the Government has remonstrated against Maximilian, in the event of his capture, being treated otherwise than as a prisoner of war, and will send it to the Senate to-morrow.

Missouri War Claims.

The Missourians in Washington waited upon Governor Fletcher this evening, and were warmly received by him. He is engaged with Adjutant General Gray in endeavoring to effect a settlement with the Government of the Missouri war claims.

The President will send to the Senate to-morrow the name of John King as Surveyor of Customs at St. Louis.

Cincinnati Postmastership.

The Senate Postal Committee have done nothing with the nomination of Hunter Brooke as postmaster at Cincinnati. Telegrams protesting against his confirmation were received to-day.

Governorship of Washington Territory.

Gen. Winters, of Wisconsin, and G. W. Hough, of Idaho, arrived here to-day as candidates for the Governorship of Washington Territory.

Cabinet Meeting.

A full and somewhat protracted Cabinet meeting was held to-day, which the President was able to attend. After Cabinet meeting, Secretary Stanton hastened to the Senate and remained there for two hours.

WASHINGTON, April 12, 1867.

ARGUMENT IN THE TEST CASE.

The Supreme Court room was densely crowded to-day. All the judges were present. The Mississippi injunction case was before the Court on a motion to file the bill. Attorney General Stanbery made a lengthy argument in opposition to the motion, denying the original jurisdiction of the Court, and Robert J. Walker spoke in its support. On the conclusion of the argument in this case, Charles O'Conner moved for leave to file a bill in the Georgia case. The Chief Justice said the Court would take the motions under advisement, and if further argument was desired, counsel would be notified.

GAS EXPLOSION.

Three clerks in the city postoffice were injured this morning by explosion of gas in the room of the postoffice building in which gas is made by a patent apparatus. Their names are James A. Kennedy, H. H. Doubleday and L. B. Moses. The latter is perhaps injured mortally. They carried a light into the room to find the cause of obstruction to the machinery.

CONFIRMATION.

REJECTIONS.

The Senate rejected the following: Assessor of Internal Revenue—Edmund Hostetter, Second District, Indiana. Receiver of Public Moneys—David Ryan, Minosha, Wisconsin; F. Bowton, Booneville, Missouri. Surveyor of Customs—John King, St. Louis, Missouri. Postmasters—Newton Baldin, Owasso, Michigan; Hunter Brooke, Cincinnati; Curtis B. Stone, Waukegan, Illinois.

LAND GRANTS TO THE NEW STATES.

The authorities of Nebraska having presented to the Interior Department the question whether the lands granted to the State under the enabling act of the 19th of April, 1864, should be deducted from lands granted under the act of the 6th of September, 1841, granting each new State five hundred thousand acres of land for the purpose of internal improvement, the Secretary of the Interior decided that the grant of 1864 should not be deducted from that of 1841, but the State is entitled to the quantity under each grant.

LAND SALES.

The Commissioner of the General Land Office has transmitted to the Commissioner of Indian Affairs for delivery to the parties entitled to receive the same, eighteen patents covering 1,687 acres for Kansas trust lands in the State of Kansas, being sales of Indian lands under the act of October 4th, 1859.

NATIONAL ASYLUM FOR DISABLED SOLDIERS.

The Board of Managers of the National Asylum for Disabled Soldiers met to-day. The old officers were re-elected. Reports were received showing donations of Soldiers' Home, near Columbus, by the Legislature to the National Asylum, and purchase of a site and buildings near Milwaukee, Wis. These asylums will hereafter be opened to all disabled volunteer soldiers. Nearly one thousand such have been cared for or assisted by the National Asylum within the last quarter. A committee was appointed to issue proposals for new buildings at Milwaukee, and select either White Sulphur Springs or Dayton, for the new Asylum in Ohio. An Executive Committee, to take charge of the asylums and administer out door relief, was appointed for the year, consisting of General Butler, Governor Smyth, Mr. Gunckle and General Martindale. The reports show that the number of disabled soldiers having neither money, homes nor friends is much larger than supposed; but the board are determined to make full and ample provisions for all. A fund estimated at five million dollars is placed by Congress in their hands for this purpose, and will enable them to do this work fully and well.

UNITED STATES SENATE.

THE QUESTION OF ADJOURNMENT.

Next Tuesday the Day Agreed On.

WASHINGTON, April 12, 1867.

The President submitted a communication from the Governor of Massachusetts, enclosing an attested copy of a resolution of the Commonwealth ratifying the proposed amendment as the XIVth article of the Constitution of the United States. It was laid on the table and ordered to be printed.

Mr. CHANDLER offered a resolution, which was agreed to, directing the Secretary of the Treasury to inform the Senate whether he or any one has authorized and employed an attorney or solicitor to represent the department before the court of claims in a pending suit; what counsel or solicitor is employed; what fee to be paid him, and out of what fund and under what law or authority he has been so employed.

The Senate resumed consideration of the adjournment question, and debated it until a quarter to four o'clock, the arguments presenting very much the same points as heretofore made. Finally the Senate refused to postpone consideration of the resolution till to-morrow by a vote of 14 to 17.

Mr. STEWART moved an amendment to fix Tuesday next at 4 P. M. as the time for adjournment sine die.

This was adopted, yeas 26, nays 11, and at four o'clock the Senate went into executive session, and subsequently adjourned.

HIGHLY INTERESTING.

NEW YORK, April 12, 1867.

ARRIVAL OF THE MANHATTAN.

The steamer Manhattan, from Liverpool, arrived to-day.

SAFE CASE.

In the safe case of William A. Louborn, of Sterling, Illinois, against Silas C. Herring, for damages for the loss of an amount of money taken by burglars, a verdict was given for defendant.

GIN SMUGGLED.

Twenty casks of gin have been smuggled on the ship Aristides, from Bremen, part of which was seized. The ship is liable to confiscation.

TROUBLE ANTICIPATED.

In anticipation of serious trouble in the mining regions of Morris county, New Jersey, Governor Ward has issued an order to General Runyon, of the State Rifle Corps, to hold two companies of the corps in Newark in readiness to march at short notice to the mining region, in order that any riots occurring through the agency of the miners may be speedily quelled.

CLAY'S BIRTHDAY.

The anniversary of the birth of Henry Clay will be celebrated by a public dinner to-morrow.

DINNER TO CAPT. ANDERSON.

Captain Anderson, of the Great Eastern, is to be tendered a public dinner.

From Louisville.

LOUISVILLE, April 12.—Henry J. Lyons, of the banking firm of Lyons & Co., New York, died here yesterday, and was buried this evening.

Gen. Philip St. George Cook has entered upon the duties of President of the Board of Examination now in session here.

Opening of Welland Canal.

OSWEGO, April 12.—The Welland Canal will be open for vessels on the 23d inst. The water is to be let in on the 20th.

Arrival of the Asia.

BOSTON, April 12.—The steamer Asia, from Liverpool, via Halifax, arrived this evening.

LATE NEWS ITEMS.

Mr. Samuel Adams, of Arizona, is now in Washington, on a mission to induce the Government to send a surveying party to explore the Colorado river. He is confident the river is navigable from where the Pacific railroad crosses it to the gulf of California, one thousand four hundred miles.

Dates from Vera Cruz to the 3d inst., state that a disagreement had occurred between the Imperial Commissioner and General Gomez, owing to which the latter threw up his commission and abandoned the cause. This disagreement is supposed also to extend to other officers, who are expected to follow the example of Gomez. He was, it will be remembered, at the time of his resignation, commander of the Imperial forces in Vera Cruz. Reports from the interior are conflicting. The story of Escobedo's defeat at Queretaro is supposed to have been manufactured to inspirit the troops. Puebla was reported captured by the Liberals.

The New York Herald's Richmond special says: Notwithstanding the order of General Schofield disbanding all military organizations, there is now in that city an armed force known as the Public Guard, which was organized by the present General Assembly, which made an appropriation of forty thousand dollars for their expenses. Their duty at present amounts to nothing more than to guard the Penitentiary, which can easily be performed by the military without any tax on the impoverished people. On the arrival of some expected troops this guard will be relieved.

It is said the Board of Directors of the National Soldiers' and Sailors' Asylum have purchased the Ohio White Sulphur Springs, to be used as an asylum, as provided by act of Congress.

The fight for the championship of California, which was to have taken place between Dooney Harris, of New York, and Tommy Chandler, of California, on Thursday, near San Francisco, was interrupted by the authorities, and did not, therefore, take place. An amphitheater had been erected for the exhibition, capable of holding five thousand people, and special trains were to run on the San Jose railroad to the scene of the expected comdat.

General Sherman in a speech in New York, Thursday evening, said he had just received a letter from Gov. Brown, of Georgia, stating that the movement towards reconstruction in the Southern States was going on happily, and that soon they would acquiesce in the measures proposed by Congress.

A Washington special says: The Richmond papers are very much exercised over Senator Wilson's proposed stumping tour through the South. The Dispatch, of to-day, says Mr. Wilson's arguments will be addressed to men not permitted free speech for reply. It adds that he can scarcely hope for a propitious hearing or a successful campaign. Another paper proposes that prominent Southern men, with conservatives, challenge the Massachusetts Senator to a discussion of the issues of the day, and names Henry A. Wise, Extra Billy Smith and Letcher. The Enquirer has an article upon accepting the situation, which concludes with the following sensible advice: As there is here really no room for a practical issue, let us all, then, be content to drop discussing that which exists only through the confusion of facts produced by the twisting of words from their proper meaning, and cultivate that unity of feeling and effort so necessary in our condition.

STATE ITEMS.

No less than seventy-two new buildings are in course of erection in Reading.

The Neversink mountain was beautifully illuminated by fire on Sunday evening. Some boys set fire to the dry leaves and rubbish on the Southern side of the mountain, and the wind drove the fiery element to the top of the ridge, presenting a grand picture.

The Erie Dispatch reports the gaslights of that city of so poor a quality that the boy who puts them out has to carry a lantern to enable him to find the posts.

The Sharon Herald says that Wm. Bayard, formerly a resident of Crawford county, was shot while on a hunting excursion, by the accidental discharge of a gun in the hands of a companion. The charge entered his back near the shoulder, and produced bleeding from the lungs. He is in a critical situation.

Edward Bliss and John D. Nicholas, late editor of the Crawford Journal, plead guilty in the Meadville court, Monday morning, to a charge of libel, preferred by Clara G. Hosmer.

Hon. Jesse Lazear, ex-member of Congress, left Waynesburg, Greene county, last week, with the view of taking up his future residence near Baltimore, Md. Mr. Lazear was a very popular citizen.

Mrs. Cassandra Johnston was found dead in her bed in North Union township, Fayette county, Tuesday morning last. She was quite advanced in years.

Miss Alice Foley, aged thirteen years, a lovely young daughter of Hon. W. C. Foley, of Brookville, was drowned by falling from a raft of timber on the 6th inst.

THE State Legislature has passed a bill providing for the arrest of professional forgers and counterfeiters. The law authorizing the arrest and detention of professional thieves, burglars and pickpockets has had a most wholesome effect, and the extending of its provisions to forgers and counterfeiters will be equally advantageous to the cause of public justice. There is no more dangerous class of offenders against property than counterfeiters and forgers, and it is next to impossible to guard against their rascalities.

Question Between England and Spain.

Peremptory Demand for Indemnity.

Indictment of Governor Eyre Ignored.

The Spanish Question.

LONDON, April 12.—The fleet which sailed for Calais early this week took out a peremptory demand made by the British Government on Spain for instant redress in both cases of the Tornado and Victoria. To this summons the Spanish Government has made an evasive reply in regard to the steamer Tornado, and has given no answer whatsoever to the claim made in the case of the Victoria.

LIVERPOOL, April 12, Evening.—An iron-clad steamer has gone to sea, and it is supposed she is bound to Cadiz relative to the claims against Spain.

Train Thrown Down an Embankment.

BOSTON, April 12.—A passenger car, three freight cars and a baggage car were thrown off the track on the Portsmouth and Concord Railroad this forenoon, near Candia, and precipitated down an embankment fifteen or twenty feet. Several persons were badly injured, but it is believed none fatally. Among them were Mrs. Campbell and Mrs. Manson, of Portsmouth; Stephen Batchelder, Express Messenger; Joseph Walker, of Winchester, and Nathaniel Bennet, of Elphin.

Fire in Portland.

PORTLAND, April 12.—W. F. Kelbourne & Co.'s carpet warehouse, on Free street, was badly damaged by fire this evening. Many of the goods were saved; fully insured. The upper story was occupied by Bowen & Merrill, fancy goods, where the fire originated, and whose stock, valued at $12,000, is a total loss; insured for $6,000.

Important Case Decided.

BALTIMORE, MD., April 12.—The important case of Gregg & Hughes, of Chicago, vs. Drodely & Fenton, of this city, for pork shipped by plaintiffs, was to-day decided in the United States Court, before Judge Giles, who gave a verdict for plaintiffs of $30,500. This was the third trial of the case.

Murderess Sentenced.

MONTREAL, April 12.—The Sorel poisoning case is concluded, and Sophia Boisclaire condemned to death. She protested her innocence before the court. Her sentence was opposed by counsel, on the plea that she was enciente. A jury of matrons have been ordered to investigate the matter.

The Trade of England With the United States.

The London Times thus comments on the returns of the foreign commerce of Great Britain in 1866:

The trade during the past year was in money value nearly fourteen per cent. in excess of all former experience. Of the total of £188,827,786, nearly thirty per cent. was to our own possessions; but, large as this proportion is, it is relatively less than in preceding years, since, although the increase in our colonial shipments in 1866 was about eleven and a half per cent., in those to foreign countries it was nearly fifteen per cent. The most important feature of the list consists in the extraordinary growth of our trade with the American continent. Notwithstanding their protective tariff, the United States have taken goods from us to a greater value than those taken by the whole of Germany and France combined; while as regards the countries of South America, the Brazils now rank higher than any European State, with the exception of Germany, France and Holland.

Fire in Steubenville.

A fire took place at Steubenville Thursday morning about three o'clock, by which Goodale's woolen factory and warehouse were entirely consumed. The water-works being out of order, water could not be secured in sufficient quantity to extinguish the flames, and the only way in which the surrounding buildings could be saved was to cover the roofs with salt, which extinguished the sparks as fast as they fell. The loss is about $25,000, $15,000 of which was covered by insurance. The factory is generally known as the Wolcott Factory, and was originally started in 1814.

THE annual meeting of the Ohio Wool Buyers and Dealers' Association will be held in Cleveland on the 17th inst. The objects of this Association are to adopt measures for the improvement of the character and condition of Ohio wool, and to unite upon some just plan of discrimination in regard to buying the same of grewer. Ohio is the largest wool producing State in the Union, the clip of the State last year being estimated at 30,000,000 pounds, or about one-fifth of all the wool grown in the United States, any movement affecting this important product will be of great public interest. A general invitation is extended to all interested in wool, and a larger attendance of Eastern manufacturers and dealers is expected.

THE New Orleans Bulletin derives encouragement from the fact that no commotion or turmoil has resulted from the summary removal of the Mayor and other officers deposed by General Sheridan. "It can," the Bulletin says, "but gratify every friend of peace and progress to note the calm which is settling down on our people as they recognize the inevitable." It then alludes at length to the good order and quiet prevailing in the Crescent City.

A LETTER from Vera Cruz on the 1st inst., says that twenty-six artillerymen arrived there by the Spanish steamer, and fourteen more by the English steamer. [Over two hundred have been enlisted in New York, and an international question will probably arise out of it, judging from Mr. Seward's official correspondence to Mr. Motley at Vienna.]

THE Cleveland Herald of yesterday says: Wheat sold yesterday in this market at $3 50 per bushel, and is held at that figure to-day; the highest point ever touched in this city for the "staff of life." Corn is held at $1 06, and oats at 64 cents. These are the rates at this writing. What they may be when this sheet lies before the reader only the produce clairvoyant can tell.

THE challenge put forth last week by the owner of the great Kentucky mare, Lady Thorn, to trot four races for $1,000 a side each race, against any horse living, at mile heats and two mile heats, in harness, and mile heats and two mile heats to wagon, has been taken by the owner of the renowned trotter Dexter. The matches will create much excitement throughout the country, and the time of their coming off will be looked for with interest.

CITY MATTERS.

FOR AMUSEMENTS see third page of to-day's issue.

YOUNG MEN'S CHRISTIAN ASSOCIATION.—The Young Men's Union Prayer Meeting will be held this evening, at Christ M. E. Church, to which the public is respectfully invited.

FALSE ALARM.—The general alarm of fire sounded from box 24, corner of Smithfield and Fifth streets, yesterday afternoon about five o'clock, was false.

REV. DR. STORRS, of Cincinnati, will preach a sermon to-morrow evening, under the auspices of the Young Men's Christian Association, at the Academy of Music. Services will commence at half-past seven o'clock.

INFORMATION FOR MURDER.—Mrs. Spicer, wife of Stephen Spicer, the colored man who was drowned off the steamboat Franklin in the Monongahela river, a week or two ago, has made information for murder against Joseph Jeffries, the mate of the steamer, who is alleged to have driven Spicer overboard, by beating him with an iron bar. Jeffries is now in the Uniontown jail. Mrs. Spicer resides at Brownsville.

ROBBERY IN THE MARKET.—Mr. W. F. Logan, proprietor of Mt. Lebanon Nursery, while making change yesterday in the Market for a customer, a man named Archy Lawson came along, snatched a ten dollar bill from his hand and ran away. Mr. Logan followed him and succeeded in overtaking him. He was handed over to a policeman who conveyed him to the Mayor's office, where, after a hearing, he was committed to jail, in default of bail, for trial.

OAKLAND PARK.—Monday next will be the opening day of the season at this Park, and as the track is in good condition, a general turn out is anticipated. Major Van Voorhis, the proprietor, has endeavored since he assumed control of this Park, to present creditable exhibitions and there can be no doubt of his success. The turfmen of the county will be gratified to learn that the sports of the season are about to commence. Those who desire to become members can obtain tickets at the Park. Price $25.

CITY MORTUARY REPORT.—Dr. A. G. McCandless, Physician of the Board of Health reports the number of interments in the city for the week ending April 7th, at fifteen—a large decrease from that of former weeks. The causes of death were as follows: Debility, one; Cancer of Rectum, one; Consumption, one; Pyaemia, one; Paralysis, one; Pneumonia, one; Appoplexy, one; Asthma, one; Phthisis, one; Disease of Lungs, one; Typhoid, one; Diphtheria, one; Still Born, one; Meningitis, one; Hydrocephalus, one. Of the above eight were adults, and seven were children. Males, seven; females eight. White, fifteen; colored, none.

THE STEAMBOAT CONFLAGRATION.—Captain Washington Kerr, of the Robert Moore, denies the statement that appeared in one of our contemporaries yesterday morning, that he could have saved the coal boat Dick Fulton No. 3 from destruction, on Thursday night, if he felt so disposed. Captain Kerr desires us to state that he was coming into port with the Robert Moore at the time the fire broke out on the Dolphin, and that he could have saved the Dick Fulton if any person had been there to cast off the chains and let her loose. He halloed to the persons on the shore for a long while to cast the chains loose, but no person seemed to understand him. He also states that when the Robert Moore backed down to the burning boat, the Dolphin, the fire was breaking out at the skylights of the cabin, and it seemed as though it originated in the main deck. The Robert Moore was crowded with passengers, who were very much alarmed and excited—the ladies and children begging of the Captain not to go any nearer the burning boat, as the sparks were falling on his boat at the time. The Captain kept his boat within about seventy yards of the burning boat to render any assistance that might be required of him.

THE COURTS.

COURT OF QUARTER SESSIONS.—Before Judge Sterrett.

In the case of James Williams, the reputed proprietor of the Bowery Saloon, on Fifth street, indicted for illegal liquor selling, the jury returned a verdict of guilty. Sentence deferred.

Charles Baker, indicted for the larceny of an overcoat, was tried on the charge and acquitted.

Ezekiel Merriman, constable of Sewickley borough, was tried on a charge of profane swearing, on oath of Mrs. Sarah McCullough. The jury rendered a verdict of guilty.

Mrs. Sarah McCullough, the prosecuting witness in the previous case, was tried on an indictment, charging her with resisting Constable Merriman, while in the discharge of his duty, in selling goods levied on as the property of defendant. A verdict of guilty was rendered with a recommendation to the mercy of the Court.

Morris G. Lucas, colored, was tried and acquitted on a charge of stealing several pigs from Philip Daly.

Wm. Bowden, Captain of the Allegheny night watch, was tried on a charge of assault and battery, on oath of Joseph E. Robinson. The jury rendered a verdict of not guilty, and directed that the prosecutor pay the costs.

Christian Keplar was acquitted on a charge of malicious mischief, and the prosecutrix, Caroline Smith, ordered to pay the costs.

Robert and James Robb were indicted for forcibly retaining possession of certain premises in Jefferson township. A verdict of not guilty was rendered and the costs equally divided between the defendants and the prosecutor, John R. Large.

Michael Crall and Charles Cross, indicted for committing an assault and battery, on oath of Wm. Dobson and Rudolph Drusandon. Wm. Dobson and Thomas McCormack, indicted for riot, on oath of Louis Hilkey. These cases grew out of a difficulty that occurred at Hilkey's tavern, at Wood's run, on the 16th of January, and were tried together.

DISTRICT COURT.—Before Judge Williams.

In the case of Harriet E. Dunn vs. Robert Morrow, administrator of John Neel, deceased, the jury found for the plaintiff, in the sum of $458 25.

Victoria Stoner vs. James C. Bindley. The parties are owners of adjoining lots on Second street. The defendant, desiring to excavate a cellar on his lot, and sink it below the foundation of the house of plaintiff, agreed with her to do the work with the greatest care and skill, and underpin the wall to prevent it from cracking. She agreed to pay two-thirds of the cost of the underpinning. She alleges that the work was done in a careless and unskillful manner; that the wall of the house sunk and was badly cracked, and otherwise damaged to the amount of two thousand dollars. The case was on trial at adjournment, and will be resumed on Monday.

COURT OF COMMON PLEAS.—Before Judge Mellon.

James Hayward vs. owner of steamer Little Hawkeye. The plaintiff contracted with defendant to tow a flat laden with coal to Oil City. On the way up the river the flat was sunk and the coal lost, and the present suit was instituted to recover its value. The defendant contended that the accident was unavoidable, and did not result from any carelessness or negligence on their part. The jury found for plaintiff the sum of $929 25.

John Y. Smith & Co. vs. Charles A. Hardy. Action to recover $1,000, the balance alleged to be due for an automatic oil well boring machine, which was purchased from plaintiffs by defendant. On trial.

POLICE INTELLIGENCE.

[Before Alderman Donaldson.]

A CUTTING AFFAIR—CROSS SUITS.

James Reed appeared yesterday and made information against Henry J. Sutton, charging him with assault and battery with intent to kill. Sutton was a tenant in a house owned by the prosecutor on Scott's alley, in the Fourth ward, and a dispute arising between them on Wednesday, about the rent, Sutton, it is alleged, abused Reed's wife, and ran at Reed with a poker in one hand and a knife in the other, and cut him on the arm, producing a slight wound. Sutton was arrested and held to bail for a hearing this afternoon.

Sutton then entered a cross-suit of felonious assault and battery against Reed, his wife and one Mary Ryan. He alleges that Reed and his wife beat and abused him, and that the other woman cut him with a knife in the arm. The defendants in this case were arrested, and also held for a hearing this afternoon.

FALSE ARREST AND ASSAULT AND BATTERY.

Edwards Owens, ex-member of the special police force, lodged information against James Egan and George Dawes, members of the night watch, for false arrest and assault and battery. The prosecutor alleges that early on Sunday morning last, while going to his home on Whashington street, he was attracted by a cry of "watch," preceeding from a house on Fountain street. Upon arriving at the house he was told by a woman that there were burglars in there. Owens rapped his mace on the pavement for assistance, and the defendants came running up and charged him (Owens) with having let a burglar "slip" out of the front door. It is alleged, caught him violently and took him to the lock-up. A hearing was had on the charge yesterday before the Alderman, which resulted in the accused being held in five hundred dollars bail each for their appearance at court.

[Before Alderman McMasters.]

FALSE REPRESENTATIONS.

David Hiltz lodged an information yesterday against George McCombs, for false pretense. The parties reside at East Liberty, and the prosecutor alleges that on the 6th inst. defendant obtained from him a horse, by representing that he owned a stone quarry, and would pay him in stone to the amount of one hundred and fifty dollars for the animal. It has since been ascertained that McCombs owned no stone quarry, and now refuses to pay for the horse. A warrant was issued for his arrest.

GAVE BAIL.

Hugh O'Neil, committed to jail on Thursday for obtaining board under false pretense, was released yesterday on bail.

[Before Alderman Strain.]

TWO CHARGES.

Wm. Foster appeared yesterday and preferred two charges against Matthew Long, one for assault and battery and the other for surety of the peace. He alleges that on the 8th inst. the defendant struck him repeatedly with a wagon whip, and threatened to take his life and "then eat his flesh." Warrants were issued.

"FORT LIMERICK" AGAIN.

James O'Connor lodged two informations against Mrs. Green for selling liquor without license, and surety of the peace. The latter charge consisted in the defendant having made a threat against the prosecutor to "knock his teeth all down his throat with a water pitcher." The accused was arrested and held for a hearing.

Honor O'Connor was arrested on charges of assault and surety of the peace, preferred by Mary Sullivan, who alleged that he threw a clinker at her and threatened to kill her. He was also held for a hearing. The above parties all reside at the famous "Fort Limerick," in West Pittsburgh.

[Before Alderman Taylor.]

CROSS-SUITS.

Mary Mahony appeared yesterday and lodged complaint against Ellen Carroll for assault and battery, alleging that the latter spat in her face and attempted to strike her with a broom.

Ellen was arrested and entered a cross-suit for surety of the peace against Mary, alleging that she threatened to kill her. Both parties were held for a hearing. They reside in the Fifth ward.

[Before Mayor Morrison, of Allegheny.]

COMMITTED FOR TRIAL.

John Patterson, the colored man charged with the larceny of thirteen dollars from A. F. Denson, had a final hearing yesterday, which resulted in his being committed to jail for trial in default of three hundred dollars bail.

ACTION FOR SLANDER.

John H. McIntyre yesterday instituted a suit for slander in the Prothonotary's office, against Joseph D. Smith and his wife. A capias was issued and the defendants arrested while sojourning at the National Hotel. The affidavit filed by Mr. McIntyre set forth that Smith and his wife charged him with taking glass that belonged to them. After the arrest the defendants agreed to settle the case by paying the costs incurred and giving the plaintiff what is known as a "libel," in which they both state "that there was no truth in the charge made against McIntyre; that he did not, to their knowledge, take glass from any person, and that his conduct is without reproach." McIntyre and Smith were both employed at McCully's glass works.

First Mortgage Bonds.

$2,000,000 in Coupon Bonds of $1,000 Each,

TWENTY YEARS TO RUN,

Principal and Interest Guaranteed by the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company,

And secured by property valued at $7,500,000, consisting of their completed road to the Gasconade river, 127 miles from St. Louis, and 350,000 Acres of Rich Agricultural and Mineral Lands on its line.

This road passes through a country rich in agricultural resources and in minerals, and particularly so in iron and lead; the iron ore of the Southwest Missouri being the purest known, ranging from 60 to 90 per cent. of pure iron. Rich and extensive deposits of specular oxide and red and brown hematites abound all along the line of the road and on the Company's lands in greater quantities than the total iron deposit of any State in the Union, and a large business is now being inaugurated in freighting iron ore for the Eastern furnaces, the vast excess in yield of iron over other ores paying the differences in cost of transportation.

By a provision of the mortgage, when lands are sold to the amount of $40,000, it is to constitute a fund for the redemption of a like amount of bonds, which are also received by the Company at PAR in payment for land. This land is now being disposed of at rates from $5 to $10 per acre. The climate is remarkably salubrious, and the mean temperature the same as in Virginia, the winter being short and mild. ☞ THE COMMERCIAL is the only paper in Pittsburgh that uses the telegraph freely. Its special dispatches are from correspondents selected for their intelligence and reliability.

ON the third page will be found the able address of the Rev. Dr. CLARK, before the Allegheny County Teachers' Association, at the recent session in this city.

THE pay of the members of the Legislature for the session that has just ended was not advanced, the proposition to that effect having failed. The pay at the last was the same as at the preceding session.

ONE of the most important bills to Pittsburgh, locally, which passed the Legislature at a late day in the session, is the bill to extend the Pittsburgh and Erie Railroad to our city by the way of Freeport and Pine Creek. The completion of this link is a matter of great importance to Pittsburgh, and the passage of this act, after so many failures, is a matter for congratulation, not only on the part of those having the enterprise especially in charge, but our business community generally. The bill, we understand, was taken charge of by Senator GRAHAM, and for his successful efforts many thanks are due.

THE brief investigations which have resulted from the consideration of the Russian Treaty, have added greatly to the stock of previous information of the country in question. Of its great value no serious doubt seems to be entertained. It is interesting to note the fact, that the opinion of the value of the country now ceded, is deemed by the opponents of the treaty about what California was held to be worth when it first came into our hands,—and another interesting fact is, Mr. SEWARD was conspicuous among those who decried the acquisition, and mainly on account of the poverty of the country, even after the gold discovery.

BISMARCK AND BONAPARTE.

The French gentleman who presides over the destiny of the Gallic nation, and whose history, at once mysterious and full of success, has made him a sort of wonder in the world, has, at last, become confronted with a gentleman or the Teutonic race who is not in the least afraid of him—neither of his power nor of his cunning. The note of Count BISMARCK to the French Emperor has the tone and ring of the first NAPOLEON in his days of conscious power. It is a demand and on a delicate subject. It bears also an implied defiance. New times, indeed! the Emperor will be disposed to say, as he reads it. We imagine we see his brows knit and a flush of anger reddening his face, as he cons over the brief note requiring of him the reasons for his military preparations, and declaring him responsible for the consequences likely to ensue unless he desists at once from his warlike activity. Whether BISMARCK's note shall stop the Emperor's preparations or hurry them on to completion, time will decide. And all the world is looking on to see whether he will succumb at the hold challenge, or whether it will determine him the more resolutely to go on.

ONE CITY.

The great measure for making the city of Pittsburgh nominally what it is really has at last got before the people interested, in an intelligent and practical shape. We say at last, not to intimate that it has been unusually long in reaching this position, for it is rarely that a business about which so many people have opinions and prejudices gets forward as rapidly and smoothly as this has done so far. There has been no disposition, that we could see in any direction or with any portion of the people, to hurry it forward faster than the public mind went freely with it.

It would, of course, be an anomaly in popular proceedings, if there were not some persons found to raise opposition to the proposed Union. Some oppose all changes from a constitutional old fogyism. It is highly probable that an opposition party would have arisen, if the changes of the moon had been made a question, and been submitted to the popular suffrage. Local prejudices, too, are strong. The running of a new county line has given great disquietude to persons, because it threw them into another county which they had always heard to be agueish. A similarly sapient regret is felt on the sinking of old names. When it comes to names, there is some scope for the maxim, "non disputandum de gustibus," for it is a matter of taste about which no disputes can be profitably waged. But the preference of names is a transient matter. Use reconciles people to living in McSprigginstown, and there are those in McSprigginstown who would resist a change to the most euphonious name in ancient Greek or modern Spanish geography.

Experience in other places affords argument in favor of union here. We do not remember a case where the matrimonial alliance of contiguous municipalities, like ours, has failed to be a happy one. Even after a somewhat feline courtship, they have proved felicitous. Our Eastern sister has tried it, and no application for divorce has been thought of. The honeymoon is over long ago, and after they have settled down as old folks, the following, from the Press of Thursday, is the congratulatory feeling inspired by the retrospect:

"With us, in Philadelphia, consolidation has worked well, and we congratulate our Pittsburgh neighbors on their prospect of enjoying similar good fortune. The consolidation of our various municipalities into one city has resulted in equality of taxation, reduction of municipal expenses, better police regulations, and a great saving of the annoyances and vexatious complications that must arise from a multiplicity of diverse and petty municipal organizations."

THE WISH AND THE THOUGHT.

It is almost comical to notice the systematic and persevering efforts of the Democratic press, to create the impression that the Republican party is distracted by internal dissensions that are beyond the possibility of reconciliation, and that the whole thing is going to fall to pieces, or at least to fall into utter inefficiency. The same delusion—if it be a delusion—has seized upon that class of persons and journals that followed off the Conservative movement, which was noticed in the country for a couple of months last Fall.

It somehow happens, nevertheless, that whenever any great measure of public utility is on foot, anything that involves the safety honor, and prosperity of the nation, the Republican party presents itself on the right side, with a promptness, energy and unanimity that do not much favor the theory above referred to. The fact is, that the party was never more united and vigorous than at the present moment. Its oppo- [...] so much accustomed to fol- [...]rs, and to take their [...] law, that they [...] inferences from [...] independent [...]ople. These [...] of party [...] the most [...] men of the [...]nity entire. [...] to think for [...] controlling [...] err, the substantial good sense of the party sets them right. Which of these reputed leaders has not been brought under their conserving power. Who are the leaders? SUMNER, STEVENS, BUTLER, even ANDREW JOHNSON, have been headed in favorite measures by their own Republican party.

If those who classify Republicans to suit themselves, will trace the idea of division among them to its source, they will find it emanating from the wish for it in their own minds, not from any breach or separation in the party. The wish is father to the thought. Those who indulge it in a struggle for ascendency only waste their labor.

Missouri Iron Ore.

We learn that recent developments in Southwest Missouri, show immense deposits of iron ore, consisting of the specular oxide and red and brown hematites, producing from 60 to 90 per cent. of pure and remarkably tenacious iron, and it is claimed that the iron deposit in that vicinity will exceed the total iron-yielding resources of Pennsylvania.

The iron ore of Missouri, we are told, has been used in the furnaces along the Ohio with a result showing that a furnace capable of making twelve tons of pig iron per day, from ordinary ore, can with the same expense for coal turn out thirty-five tons per day from Missouri ore, and as to its superior tenacity, it is claimed that a trip hammer helve of this iron has been in constant use at the Meramec iron works for more than sixteen years. This may seem almost incredible to iron workers whose trip hammers need new helves as often as twice a year.

The cost of making iron from this ore, it is claimed, owing to its superior purity, will be much below the cost from the less pure ores now used, and Missouri iron men say that with coal from Pittsburgh and ore from the new deposits, they can make iron in Missouri and lay it down in this city for $28 per ton.

We understand that some of our iron men are already looking into this matter with a view to obtaining the ore as soon as proper arrangements can be made for mining and transportation.

The Southwest Pacific Railroad with a large land grant, is now being constructed through this region, and some of the most important of these deposits are reported to be on or near their line. They are now running trains 127 miles west of St. Louis, and it is expected that they will soon be in condition to afford transportation for the mineral wealth which abounds on their route.

WILKES's Spirit, referring to the match between Hamill and Brown, says the latter "is at Portland, taking his work in a new boat, built for him by Stephen Roberts, of Harlem. This boat is a very fine specimen of racing craft. She is thirty-one feet long, thirteen inches and a half wide, and weighs thirty-seven pounds. We saw it before it was sent on East, and we do not think that it can easily be surpassed. If Brown is as good as our correspondent 'Rifle' thinks him, it will trouble the champion to beat him. He is a powerful young man, and his improvement has been steady."

MR. FREDERICK KAPP, in an article to the Historical Magazine for March, charges Jared Sparks with "falsifying the record of Washington's life and of American history," and says it is in his personal knowledge that Mr. Sparks suppressed some passages in certain autograph letters of Washington and tampered with others, in order to make him appear more devoted as a Christian and more conversant with the requirements of modern propriety than he really was. Mr. Capp promises to ventilate the subject hereafter.

A RICHMOND correspondent of the Tribune writes that "all the efforts of the Conservatives to elicit from the Freedmen any expression of their purpose, in the matter of voting, seem to be unavailing. Not an intimation has so far been thrown out by any number of them, that could furnish even a clue as to how they shall vote. They certainly keep their own secrets, and I am satisfied the question of how they shall vote will remain a mystery, which dan only be solved by the results of the elections.

IN Philadelphia, in the absence of efficient Governmental protection against the frauds so unblushingly practiced in the whisky traffic, dealers most interested in the article have taken the matter in hand, and by mutual agreement have pledged themselves, each to the other, not to countenance or encourage the fraud manifest in offers to sell whisky or alcohol below the cost of the tax imposed by the Government.

THE Inman line of steamers last week invited Thaddeus Stevens to accept the Captain's state room of one of their vessels for a voyage to Europe, but he was too weak to undertake the trip. Though he may live years, yet the demise of Mr. Stevens any day would occasion no surprise to those who understand his condition best.

FOREIGN immigration into Virginia is destined to be a failure. The system of treatment practiced toward slaves is too deeply engrafted upon the Southern mind to render them capable of treating white laborers as they should. The present generation must pass away before the South can adapt itself to the requirements of white labor.

THE aplicants for Registers have been referred to the Marshal of the Supreme Court, merely to assort and make a brief in each case, stating the qualifications and recommendations from which briefs the Chief Justice will make his decisions.

THE friends of the Hon. Thad. Stevens wish it to be stated that he has not been so ill as has been represented, but has been able to see his friends and transact business every day. His health has been feeble, but he is now well again.

WESTERN UNION TELEGRAPH stock has fallen in price in the New York market, during the present week, five to six dollars per share, and sold yesterday at 35½, againt 41 at the close of last week.

IF the ratification of the Seward Treaty was procured by the blandishments with which the distinguished Secretary of State was able to bring to bear, it must be conceded that he has proven himself highly successful in that line.

A MOTION to strike from the Constitution of New Jersey the word white failed in the House by a vote of 20 to 35. Thirteen Republicans voted in the negative.

IT is said that Mr. McCulloch expects gold will fall below the present mark, and that he does not take much stock in the excitement growing out of European war rumors.

IT is said Gen. Halleck will take possession of the Russian Territory, when the country is delivered over to its new owners.

ONE phase in New York life is illustrated by a curious little affair which took place up town recently. It seems that a gentleman, well known in society, gave a large dinner party, to which he invited both ladies and gentlemen. The dinner was served in the most elegant style; the table cloth, we are told, being of white velvet, and the china, glass and silver of the most magnificent description. Soup was served, then fish, and, just as the waiters were preparing to bring on the third course, and while the host was relating a very interesting story, in which he was the hero—the folding doors were suddenly thrown open, and a man walked in, and, advancing to the host, laid his hand on his shoulder, and said, in a voice loud enough for all to hear, "I am the sheriff, sir, and have a warrant for your arrest."

WE learn from the Boston Traveller that Lynn is lively at the present time, and the shoe manufacturers are actively at work. There is now a good demand for the finer class of boots and shoes, though we believe that sales are not made with large profits to the manufacturers. The demand for the coarser qualities of goods generally commences soon after the call for the better class of work, and there is a hope that this year will be no exception to this rule, but so far the promise is not great, and in Haverhill, Stoneham, and other places business is dull, and has been for some months. Manufacturers are not willing to have a large stock on hand, and if a brisk trade springs up they have so much labor saving machinery that the demand will soon be supplied.

BEER DRINKING IN PRUSSIA.—The amount of malt which paid duties in Prussia, in 1864, was 2,605,482 hundred weight. Of this, 76 per cent. was consumed by the breweries; enough to produce 260,548,820 quarts of beer; or 14 quarts for each man, woman, and child, in the kingdom. Berlin, however, disposes of an average quantity of 52 quarts for each inhabitant. But, to all this fuddling stuff, manufactured from malt and made in the country, must be added vast quantities of imported beer, and of beer made by brewers, who substitute for malt, articles not subject to the internal tax, which no doubt increases the amount of beer drunk one-third or one-half.

P PHILADELPHIA paper speaks encouragingly of the trade of that city. It says: "The wharves of the Southern Steamship Line are piled mountain high with freight, and the depot of the Baltimore railroad is packed with merchandise destined for the South. To sum the facts in one sentence, as many goods are being shipped South from Philadelphia as any one could reasonably expect. The home trade was never better, while the Western trade is heavier than was looked forward to by the most sanguine."

GENERAL INTELLIGENCE.

The Boston Commercial Bulletin gives as its bon mot: "Against the grain—the weevil, speculators, and want of cheap transit."

The sidewheel steamer Quaker City has been chosen to carry General Sherman, Henry W. Beecher and the excursion party to the Mediterranean and the Holy Land next summer.

The Newman (Georgia) Herald says that two widows and their families in Cowell county, occupying the same house, were reduced to such destitution as to compel an allowance of only three mouthfuls of corn bread at each meal. In consequence, one person has perished from starvation.

At the municipal elections in Denver, Central City, and Black Hawk, Colorado, on the 1st, colored citizens were allowed to vote without interruption.

Advices from Lake Superior to the 1st instant, report the weather as moderating, but the lake was full of ice, and snow covered the ground.

Some persons may feel an interest in the fact that the new evening gloves are of the lightest lemon color, made with long wrists, with eight gilt buttons, and embroidered on the back with flowers in silk, a shade darker than the gloves. They are very pretty and tsylish, and will soon be the height of fashion.

The Young Men's Christian Association of Chicago furnishes funds to pay the postage on all letters that are dropped into the postoffice without stamps, through carelessness or otherwise, and thus prevents their being sent to the dead letter office. A printed slip is affixed to each letter informing the recipient how the postage was paid, and inviting him to contribute to the association, and sometimes the response is quite generous.

As we have been pleased to learn that England will not be angry with us for annexing Russian America, we are now pleased to learn that France is entirely unconcerned about the matter. The Courier des Etats Unis tells us that "France can witness this new aggrandizement of the Union with parfait disinteressement. It is not here that France is interested; and she has enough to occupy her attention in other quarters without getting angry about such an affair." It would seem, therefore, that the entire world that is to say, France, England, Russia and America—are suited with the Seward treaty.

The Methodist Conference in session in New York city have adopted a report, deprecating the increase of worldly amusements among us—such as dancing, attendance at theaters, operas, circuses, negro minstrels, and the taking of such diversions as cannot be used in the name of the Lord Jesus. Resolutions were unanimously adopted, calling upon all Christian men and women to discountenance and refrain from all such pastimes.

The excitement of salmon fishing may be judged from the feelings of the Scot mentioned by Mr. Francis, a recent English piscatorial writer. The fisherman, while playing a magnificent game salmon, was apprised that his wife, in his cottage hard by, was dying. "Ah, mon, ye dinna say so. Rin back and tell her joost to hing on till I've killed the fush."

PERSONAL.

—Mr. Howard, of the British Legation, is engaged to the young, very beautiful and cultured Miss Cecelia Riggs, daughter of Geo. W. Riggs, Esq., the accomplished gentleman, and well-known banker at Washington. Mr. Howard is the son of Sir Henry Howard, Minister at Dresden, and nephew of the late Philip Henry Howard, M. P., of Corbie Castle. Both Mr. Howard and Miss Riggs are Roman Catholics, and the marriage, we believe, will take place in June.

—The absurd rumors afloat about the approaching marriage of Patti, have no foundation whatever. She has long since made up her mind who is to share her fortune and affections. Private confidence obliges us to keep our information a secret. This much we will say; the fortunate youth is neither a count nor a prince, but a noble-hearted young American, who, before she became famous, loved her for herself.

—A gentleman, well-known in London literary circles, and who bears a very strong resemblance to the Prince of Wales, often receives marked attention, on account of the likeness. He recently visited a second-rate London theater, and, as he passed through the door he was stared at by the box-keeper, who left him to rush off in quest of the manager. He had scarcely purchased his seat ere an official, with a couple of lighted candles, conducted him to the only private box in the house. Of course, he was much pleased with the attention; but one thing surprised him excessively—every time the curtain fell, the band would insist upon striking up a very mild version of "God Bless the Prince of Wales." It is understood that, upon the strength of this visit, the theater has assumed the title of Royal.

—Mrs. Green, wife of Major Green, serving with Gen. Pope, was killed in the Columbus depot on Wednesday when attempting to get upon a train in motion.

—The French Jenkins is even more persevering in his researches and minute in his observations than him of America. Thus he writes: I was the other day in M. de Lamartine's study. The servant was shaking and sweeping. The magnificent carpet, with a white ground, was covered with snuff. M. de Lamartine snuffs more than twenty old women, and the greater part of his pinches fall on the carpet."

MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS.

THE GREAT HOUSEHOLD REMEDY.

Stimulates the Torpid Liver,
Invigorates the Kidneys,
Strengthens the whole System.

Capt. Duff, of East Liberty, says: For many years I have been afflicted with Indigestion and Dyspepsia in their worst forms. I was induced to try Mishler's Herb Bitters. The use of but a small quantity of it effected a radical cure in my case.
The above certificate is reliable, and one of the many we are daily receiving.

Depot for Rev. E. A. Wilson's Consumptive Remedy

COMPOUND
Charcoal Biscuit,
OR
ANTI-DYSPEPTIC FOOD,

Composed of recently Calcined Willow Charcoal, &c., combined with Graham Flour.
On account of the difficulty and unpleasantness of taking Charcoal, it has not hitherto been employed, either by physician or patient, as much as its valuable medicinal properties demand. This objection is now overcome, as these Biscuits are not only free from disagreeable taste, but are more palatable and highly nutricious.

RECENTLY CALCINED WILLOW CHARCOAL

Is a powerful Disinfectant and Absorbent, and when administered internally is a valuable remedy for Heartburn, Waterbrash, Acidity of the Stomach, Nausea, Eructation, Constipation and other forms of Indigestion. It is employed in three complaints with the most favorable results by eminent physicians, both in Europe and America. Amongst others, M. Belloc found it especially efficacious in Gastralia, etc., and his observations were confirmed by the French Academy of Medicine; other noted men recommend its use, for whose opinion see Dispensary, &c. These Biscuits should be taken three or four times a day, and may be used at meals, in place of ordinary bread. For infants, soften one or two in milk or water, and give to prevent Acidity of the Stomach, Flatulence, &c.
N. B.—Persons suffering from Fetid Breath, arising from disordered digestion or decayed teeth, will find these an effectual and pleasant remedy.

MISHLER'S
HERB BITTERS,
THE GREAT DYSPEPSIA CURE.

We have received the following communication from Capt. EDWARD DUFF, of East Liberty, bearing strong testimony to the great virtues of MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS, as a remedy for DYSPEPSIA AND INDIGESTION.
EAST LIBERTY, March 25, 1867.
MESSRS. FAHNESTOCK & HOLTON—
Gentlemen: I write to add my testimony to that of thousands of others as to the merits of MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS, that the sick and afflicted may have the benefit of my experience with your Invaluable Medicine. For many years I have been suffering with the very worst form of Indigestion and Dyspepsia. Only those who have been afflicted as I have know the trouble, pain and misery I endured. After suffering a number of years, I was induced to try your MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS. The use of but a small quantity of this most excellent Medicine has effected a radical cure in my case, and I here take occasion to recommend its use to all persons similarly affected. I am much pleased to see that we are to have a Branch House for the sale of this remedy in Pittsburgh.
Hoping that MISHLER'S HERB BITTERS will meet with that approbation and extended sale their great merits entitle them, and that thousands upon thousands of our suffering fellow creatures may be healed, as I have been, through their extraordinary virtue and curative powers, I am truly, yours,
EDWARD DUFF.

ADDRESS

Delivered Before the Allegheny County Teachers' Association, April 4th, 1867, the Third Evening of Their Meeting, in the Hall of the Third Ward School Building, Pittsburgh, Pa., by Rev. John B. Clark, of Allegheny City.

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: We appear as a humble gleaner upon the field where reapers of experience and skill have toiled. If we may but pick up the few "straggling straws" which they have not bound in the harvest bundles, we may contribute a little to the common stock of nutriment, or if I bring not to your three-day feast one crumb untasted before, I would by my presence be understood as bidding you "God speed" in the grand work of education. As I stand in the presence of this learned association my mind reverts to the period when my mother led me by the hand, the first day of my school boy life. The house was a miserable cabin, seated with slabs from the saw mill, lighted with a dozen panes of glass and floored with sufficient apertures to allow free passage to the rats without the labor of gnawing the puncheons. The teacher was none of your young upstarts, but a venerable man on whose brow sat the frown of storm, and in whose grasp shook the rod of wrath. With him the chief end of a school teacher was to scold and whip. When we saw him spring to his feet and heard him utter his favorite salutation, "you tremendous pesticat," we who were always good children, understood that some of the bad ones were about to be hurt. His name was Lightner, and judging by the blue stripes on the young shrubs of humanity in that room, he was a Lightner full of lightning. But, according to the notions of that day, he was the right man in the right place. Preachers, parents and teachers, all seemed to have the same idea about whipping that the glutton had about dumplings, the more the better. The idea too prevailed that a little learning was useful, while much education was not only a curse to the individual, but to the community. The great ambition in nineteen parents in twenty was to have their children taught to "read, write and cipher" as they called it. Anything beyond this was regarded as a mark of pride—as a serious threatening of the industrial interests of the community. In those days there were not a few in the churches who looked upon all progress as the child of the devil. As a specimen let me narrate the following: In the county of Washington, in this State, a congregation had erected a house of worship; it was seated with benches without backs. There chanced to be a member who was a carpenter. He made for himself and family a seat with a back. During the interval of the first Sabbath they occupied it, the people in holy wrath threatened to mob him. They seemed to think that no man could be a saint whose back was not self-supporting. But thank God our American people have generally traveled away from such notions in church and state. Progress has become the watchword of the hour. As step by step the earth has reached its present state, from that condition of chaos when it was without form and void, so many of the baleful fetters which imprisoned the world of intellect have been cast off. It is no longer a dismal prison house, but a theater of freedom in thought—of general and ceaseless progression. In the common school it has become lawful to instruct the pupil in all principles which he may need to use in any chosen sphere of life. He may not only commune with the stars which twinkle with the light of divinity, but go with geologist on beach or quarry, on mountain bench or top, and behold the creative power of God in creation. The question is no longer, what shall he not study? but how shall he best understand the elements of knowledge in all departments of thought? The man who would dare say that the pupils in our schools should not be taught philosophy, physiology, physical geography, astronomy or geology, would deserve the hisses of contempt. Everybody knows that the grandest instrumentality ever yet devised to augment the amount of intelligence or mental power in a community, is the Common Schools. The great majority of our men and women receive no other education than it affords. It is there that the concealed fountains of genius in society are first disclosed. And who dare say that any study which tends to bring to the surface the waters of that fountain, and pour out their fertilizing influence upon the earth, should be excluded? Well did Horace Mann once say, "hitherto hardly one person in a million has had any chance for the development of his higher faculties. Hence whatever poets, orators, philosophers, inventors or philanthropists may have arisen to bless the world, have all risen from not more than one millionth part of the race." Hitherto, in this country, perhaps, one child in ten thousand has become conspicuous in the history of human improvement and adornment. Why not many more than this? Other minds are equally endowed with talent and genius. Why do they not shine out side by side with the Beechers, the Grants and Shermans of the age? Why are they only known as the sons of physical toil, the [illegible] of the workshop, with bodies used as drudges, and minds almost unrecognized? To answer these questions in detail would be a tedious task, but we are constrained to say, it is because they have not been supplied with all the incitements to exertion and the aids to self-development. There have been radical defects either in the home or school education, or both. As I understand it, the grand object of the Common School is to arouse talent and set it in motion. The book that does not tend to this is worthless. The teacher whose every day influence does not contribute to this should be dismissed. The pupil in whom genius slumbers should not realize its development by an accident; the teaching of the teacher should rouse the inward impetus of native talent. And when once awaked "you might as well attempt to stop the revolution of the earth as arrest the progress of that mind." Even the glories of eternity cannot fully quench its thirst for knowledge.

The world does not yet clearly appreciate how much the decency and support of the race depend on the liberal education of the masses in those general truths and laws which God has inwrought into the frame of nature and ourselves. The fear has often been expressed, and is yet, that with the progress of education, in the increased development of human intellect, laziness would be generated among the people and the industrial interests of the nation would suffer. But this is a mis-stable misapprehension. One says, "I wish you to receive this as an uncolored statement, that without the dynamic forces of nature acting through some form of apparatus or machinery, and doing the work of the world—without the chemical forces of nature applied to the art of agriculture and producing the sustenance of the world, and without the school house and college, kindred seminaries educating pupils in all these first principles and so developing the mind of the world, there would not be, even according to our present low standards, one ten thousandth part of a sufficiency, either of bread for the body or of bread for earth, and to enable the human race to appear decently in any civilized part of the universe." If you ask me how is the soil of the earth to be made more fruitful, or the commerce of the world to be doubled—how is the mass of human being to be continually lifted to a higher plane of dignity and worth, being made more useful to themselves, society and to God? I answer that these results can only come through the human intellect, directed in proper channels of thought. Now, it is in the common schools that this indispensable and mighty power, which is to keep us on a constantly ascending scale, must first be set in motion. And in order that they may do this work well—in order that they may contribute their full share as one of the tributaries to that stream of knowledge whose currents shall deepen and widen forever, the greatest care should be exercised in the selection of text books. I know as well as you, that the aim of education should be to teach how to think, rather than what to think—rather to develope our minds so as to enable us to think our own thoughts, than to load the memory with the thoughts of other men. But we all know that the child must have some general guide in every branch of study, in order to hold to a certain line of reasoning. A text book should never be full and elaborate because it hinders the cultivation of the power of thinking for one's self. It should simply exhibit the leading principles or most important points in a science or any branch of study. The books placed in the hands of pupils as readers should not only be so arranged as to lead them step by step to proficiency, but the matter should be instructive, such as will be of service in the years of manhood and womanhood. The practice which largely prevailed in the past of filling school readers with pure fiction, with fables or legends of mythology, under the idea that the youthful mind will bear little else than amusement, is deserving of condemnation. What skillful educator will say that the first intellectual food offered to the child should be the impossible and absurd? Stories about sheeted ghosts and demons horned, about "Venus born of the wild sea foam," or devilkins sporting themselves in the darkness? One says: "It is too bad, when the intelligence of the child is like soft wax, preserving the feeblest impression, that such things should be brought to its attention. It is deplorable to be compelled thus to enter the paradise of knowledge through the gates of folly." I hold that readers should contain nothing but exact, even vigorous truth. And can they not be so made, and at the same time amuse and nourish the imagination of the child? What can be more pleasing than a thousand things in natural history? Let these be written in a simple pleasing style—let the writer, as it were, take the child by the hand and lead him into fields of beauty around him, amid the birds of the meadows, th' brooks coursing like a silver thread down the sides of mountains and hills, the breeze which murmurs and the storm which roars—let him talk of the history and the simple spectacles of nature, and there will be enough to satisfy his thirst for the wonderful, while his reason will be nourished and his imagination developed. I believe one fault in the present education of the country is that so many things, elementary and simple, are left out of view. The simplest things present as objects to the eye of pupils every day, are not understood until the years of manhood. A boy throws a stone, but he cannot tell why it takes direction in his front rather than his rear. The little girl drops her basket, but she cannot tell why it falls to the ground rather than goes upward toward the sky. All these simple things are necessary and should be revealed from day to day in the reading and teaching of the schools. God has written nothing on the earth's envelope which man should not try to understand, and to learn it all and well, should commence in the common school.

Of the character of the text books used in the schools of these cities I have nothing to say to-night, I will not undertake to say whether or not they meet the demands of the age, viewed in the light of that progress for which we plead. You who are practical teachers ought to know this. And when you feel that any reader, arithmetic or grammar is not well adapted to its place in school, you should give the Directors no peace until it is cast out. The interests of thousands in our schools should be paramount to all individual monopoly or local interests. The query of the Director and Teacher should not be what will enhance the pecuniary interests of a few men, but what will best secure the intellectual culture of the rising age. When the selection of text books comes before me as a Director, the question is not who is my personal friends among authors or book-sellers, but what books in the several branches of study, do I regard as best adapted to the training of the human intellect? And just here allow me to refer to two painful facts. One is, many Directors are about as well qualified to judge of what books should be used in school as I am to preach in Greek. The other is, that many teachers, persuaded of the imperfections in text books, will keep silent rather than run the risk of being regarded as busy bodies in other men's matters. Thus progress is retarded. Books are retained from year to year which ought to be substituted by others which are better adapted to mental drill. When a skilled mechanic can avail himself of a better implement than the one he is using, he gets it. The thrifty farmer always buys a new plow when it is better adapted to turn the soil than the old. And why should not the same course be much more pursued in the great work of intellectual development? It is a disgrace to the civilization and enlightenment of the age to tolerate, for a month, any book on any given subject, which is not as well adapted to mental progress, as other works on the same subject. The increased cost of making changes, should scarcely be considered, if it is believed, the mental power of community will be enhanced. Any effort to retain unsuitable books through favoritism or political wire-working, should be despised. The march of education is upward, and books are of no use except in going down hill. Besides, if teachers and directors would earnestly determine that no book which is not first-class in its character shall be used, it would become an object of effort among educators of the highest rank, to prepare works for the school room. Mighty stimulus would be given in this direction. School text books would be made to keep pace with the demands of the age. Men and women who have been teaching for ten years—men and women who realize that thought engenders thought—who understand that in the human intellect there is a well of thought which has no bottom, ought to be able to make better books than those prepared ten years ago. Why then should not their efforts be elicited by all connected with the educational interests of the country, taking a high and independent stand in favor of progress? Let it be understood that the best books will always be adopted in every ward and district, and you will set scores of giant brains to working. Moreover, to make this grand work of education successful in a high degree, the greatest care should be exercised in the training and appointment of teachers. Every one knows that persons enter all the professions, who are not qualified either by natural endowment or acquirements. Every one knows that in these professions, many possess knowledge sufficient, but seem to no more understand how to use it for the benefit of others than a baby does a telescope. Teachers of this character are a positive hindrance to the progress of education. Their influence tends to dwarf rather than expand the human intellect. If I were asked whether all existing professional certificates should be canceled or not, I would answer, let it be determined in every case by the efficiency of the persons holding them. I would not decide it wholly on the basis of scholarship. While scholarly attainments are essential in the teacher, yet if he or she possess no skill in so using those attainments that pupils will be rapidly developed, it is plain that they are not fit for the work. Of what use is a cask, brimming full with water, if men are not refreshed from it? Or what use is a mountain of gold if not made available to the uses of commerce and trade? In the teacher first of all should be found a good moral character. The man or woman who do not possess the anointing of virtue and religion—whose eye will not stream at the sight of wo and whose heart will not make the sufferings of others their own, are not the persons from whom the youth of our country should receive their first impressions. The teacher should by example and word, wield a healthful moral influence over the heart as well as cultivate the intellectual nature. It is never safe to cultivate the mind and leave the heart a stranger to moral development. Knowledge is power, but if separated from moral influence is only power for evil. Such a course might have answered in those ages when it was "the base pride of nations to boast with how many fighting men they could reap the harvests of death, or with what wrecks of proud navies they could many the bottom of the sea." But man now has risen to a higher appreciation of his glorious nature, and demands that his fellows shall be educated in morals everywhere, not only in the common schools. As he glances back along the line of centuries he sees how cultivated intellect, "unguided and unrestrained by Christian ethics, has wrapt the earth again and again in the lurid fires of war," therefore he says to the teacher, "instruct my child, so that mind and heart shall be allies in the work of carrying knowledge to the ignorant, and Christian light to those sitting in the region and shadow of death." Next in the teacher should be found the power of lucid explanation. The person who cannot illustrate a fact or principle so as to bring it within the grasp of the pupil, may be said to [illegible]. Pupils should [illegible]. The cultivation of the memory is a very small part of your work. If I am sent to hoe corn in the field, my work is not to hoe one hill, but all. Just so, if I am employed in a school to teach, my work is to develop every faculty in the mind of my pupils. But if I do little more than hear them read or recite from memory, I cannot tell whether they are making intellectual progress, or whether they understand what they are studying. I must constantly question them, and from day to day explain the matters under review. The teacher who cannot do this, should not hold a certificate of any kind. Tupper says, "be understood in thy teaching and instruct to the measure of capacity; precepts and rules are repulsive to a child, but happy illustration winneth him." In all the days of my common school-boy life, I never saw a black-board used. I may say that nothing was explained. If a question in arithmetic could not be solved by the pupil, the teacher would work it on the slate, handing it back to the scholar without a word of explanation. I have seen the teachers spend almost the entire day in this manner while classes were reciting, having little or no attention from him. My heart now sickens at the reflection, and I now thank God it is so no longer in many of our schools. But even yet there is room for reform. There are too many yet who are only teachers by name, before whose minds almost all things are a dream. They have not yet learned to think, and how can they nurse it in others? I have spoken plainly to-night, because I honor the profession, because I would have it honored in all its representatives. Yours is a high and noble calling, identified with the well-being of the Church and State, and your influence should be earnestly exerted to raise the profession higher. Mere human sympathy should not move you to approve or retain one who is incompetent. The mental improvement of hundreds should be a motive stronger than that. And you will permit me, in concluding, to suggest two things which must inevitably improve the profession. The first is the establishment of Normal schools all over the country, for the express purpose of training men and women in the art of teaching. Even admitting that those who select this profession can acquire all the knowledge necessary before quitting the halls of the common school, they do not there learn how to use it in the training of other minds. They are no more fit to teach, as a general thing, than the student is to preach when he graduated in a College—hence there should be common centers, for training, established in the country, and all who cannot be certified from these as competent for the work, after fair examination, should not be certified by County Superintendent or any other authority. This notion I know is unpopular with some. We are told that some who have proved to be fine teachers gave very little hope of it in their examination—that we cannot, even in a training school, actually determine, in every case, the character and efficiency of the candidate. But, after granting all this, I ask, will not the advantages resulting from such an effort, to elevate the character and increase the skill of the profession, overbalance the objection a hundred fold? Everything that can be done to lure men and women of gifted minds into it should be done; while all others are left to other spheres and duties. All should be done that will add to "the burning thunderbolt of human thought, which sends the living light of truth abroad—which dashes down the towers of force and fraud, and awes the trembling world like oracle of God." Milton says "the education of youth is not a bow for every man to shoot in that counts himself a teacher, but requires sinews almost equal to that which Homer gave to Ulysses." To meet the demands of the age he should be strongly constituted in mind, not endued with the spirit of the old fogy, but of the progressive, not half equipped but fully armed to do a glorious work in the field of human intellect and progress. And no where can this preparation be better acquired than in a Normal School, well planned and manned. Then my second suggestion is to make the support of our teachers more generous and liberal. Men and women can't live without money. The days when teachers boarded with the scholars are past. A new and a better era has dawned. In most counties of this State the people have learned that the office of a teacher is quite as indispensable to the order and thrift of the Commonwealth as that of any other class. But as yet the compensation is not what it should be. It is not sufficiently remunerative to attract many first-class minds to the profession, who would come to it if salaries were better. Nothing contributes so much to the civilization, refinement and mental power of a country, as the two professions of teacher and minister, and yet in the aggregate the compensation falls far beneath that of other professions. And because of that fact, both are filled with a class of persons who are no more fit to teach or preach than a woman is to chop wood. Men are influenced by considerations of present economy, and feel that if they cannot get one at certain wages, they can another. But they forget the great truth uttered by the immortal Everett: "Education is a better safeguard of liberty than a standing army. If we retrench the wages of the school master, we must raise those of the recruiting sergeant." Side by side with the minister of God, in the greatest and noblest work in the world. His work is one of care and toil, requiring years of preparation—his work is to build up a man; to form and fashion those powers which are to exert themselves over other minds in influences lasting as immortality, and shall he not be liberally paid for his noble work? Shall he not at least stand on a par with other classes who contribute no more than he to the stream of human progress.

Then, my companions, in life's mental and moral harvest-field, take a still higher view of your chosen calling and vow to-night that you will make it more honored and remunerative—more efficient and powerful in the elevation of your race. Stick to your aim, though the world be tardy to recognize your worth.

"Press on! for it is godlike to unloose
The spirit, and forget yourself in thought;
Bending a pinion for the deeper sky,
And in the very fetters of your flesh,
Mating with the pure essences of Heaven!
Press on! for in the grave there is no work
And no device—press on while yet you may."

Mr. HIMAN, the original and well-known Magician, will present his entirely new and novel Entertainment,
THE WORLD OF MAGIC,
Changing the programme each evening, and they will be selected from all the latest Illusions. The Bird Cage of Leah; Marabout Moka; Egyptian Mirror; Prince's Plumes; Casket of King Crœsus; Feast of Lanterns, and a hundred Illusions entirely new, peculiar and astonishing. At the close of each of Mr. HIMAN'S Entertainments, he will distribute the Presents in the most fair and impartial manner, and those who attend may be sure, no matter what has been the action of other so-called "gift performances," that he will deal fairly and honestly with those who favor him with their patronage. He will perform some of the most Wonderful things ever witnessed in the practice of the Arts of Enchantment and Magic. He will not promise exactly to restore the Dead to Life, nor yet engage in so many words to make Spirit Voices Audible to common ears, but he will approach as nearly as the resources of science will permit. He will render THE VISIBLE INVISIBLE; Exhibit a Wonderful Bottle that cannot be Emptied.
100 Presents Given Away Each Evening.
Mr. HIMAN wishes it to be distinctly understood that no charge will be made for the various and numerous Presents, but for the performance only. No game or chance of lottery will be connected in any way with the distribution of Gifts. This being Mr. Himan's last tour in the United States, he wishes to leave some "souvenirs" of remembrance behind him; he will therefore distribute, each evening, One Hundred Presents, selected from the following: Full Sets of Furniture, Sofas, Lounges, Tons of Coal, Cooking Stoves, Real Gold Watches, Groceries, Paintings, Glass Ware, Clothing, Wooden Ware, Lamps, Dry Goods and Crockery.
The above list of Presents are useful to all, and purchased from the Merchants of this city.

COUNTY TREASURER'S OFFICE,
Pittsburgh, April 1st, 1867.
IN PURSUANCE OF THE TWENTY-FIRST SECTION of an act relating to Allegheny County, approved the 1st day of May, 1861, and of the amendment to said section, approved the 30th day of March, 1866, I, DAVID AIKEN, Jr., Treasurer of said County, hereby give notice that the Duplicates of the several Wards, Boroughs and Townships, will be open and I will be prepared to receive the County, State, Poor and Bounty Taxes, for 1867, on and after the FIRST DAY OF MAY, 1867. Said Taxes can be paid at the Treasurer's Office until the 1st day of August with a deduction of five per cent. discount for prompt payment to any person paying the whole amount of their taxes. There will be no deduction allowed on taxes paid during the month of August. There will be ten per cent. added to all taxes remaining unpaid on the first day of September.

New York, March 15, 1867.
THIS IS TO GIVE NOTICE THAT should the Union Paper Collar Company attempt to interfere with you in the selling of our Goods, that we will guarantee to protect you. Should they serve you with legal papers, send such papers to us immediately, and will take care of them, saving you from all expense or trouble.
Respectfully yours, &c.,

CITY MATTERS.

Y. M. C. A.—The rooms on the second story of No. 23 Fifth street are being fitted up for the use of the Young Men's Christian Association.

HORSE STOLEN.—A valuable dark sorrel mare was stolen on Wednesday night, from the stable of W. D. Leo, in Scott township. A reward of twenty-five dollars is offered for its recovery.

G. A. R.—Post No. 3, Grand Army of the Republic, will meet in their new hall in Apollo Building, Fourth street, this evening at half-past seven o'clock.

RECOVERING.—Robert Young, who was so seriously injured by jumping off the cars on the Western Pennsylvania Railroad, in Allegheny, a few days since, is recovering and is now considered out of danger.

PARIS EXPOSITION.—Among the names of exhibitors at the Paris Universal Exposition, we notice the following from Pittsburgh: Clark, Brother & Co.—cast steel edge tools, extra finish; twenty bars of cast steel. Nicholas J. Bigley—Pennsylvania bituminous coal, limestone and fire-clay.

ALLEGHENY LUTHERAN SYNOD.—At a recent meeting of the Allegheny Synod of the Lutheran Church, the following resolution was adopted by a vote of twenty yeas to four nays:

Resolved, That this Synod, in view of the action of the Pittsburgh Synod, in seceding from the General Synod, does hereby resume its former boundaries, as they existed prior to the formation of the Pittsburgh Synod.

THAYER & NOYES' CIRCUS.—This exhibition (which comprises both circus and menagerie) will visit our city during the coming week, and give a series of performances. Their entire traveling equippage, tents, etc., are new, and a cage, containing four large lions, has been added to the stock. The little African elephant, Hiram, which is but forty inches high, and has been in this country about a month, will be transported from place to place in a splendid, gilded car, he being too young to endure the regular travel. The establishment is complete in every particular, and as the initial performance of the season will be given in this city, the demand for admission will be lively.

A PLEASANT SURPRISE.—On Tuesday evening the teachers of the Sunday School connected with the First Presbyterian Church, of Allegheny, to the number of thirty, proceeded in omnibusses to the residence of James M. Burchfield, Esq., the Superintendent of the School, in Ross township, and presented him with a beautiful parlor clock. The presentation speech was delivered by Dr. Miller, who took occasion to refer in glowing language to the interest Mr. Burchfield had exhibited in the success of the school during his long connection with it. The recipient responded in a few feeling remarks, after which the company adjourned to the dining room and partook of a collation. The occasion was an exceedingly happy one, and the teachers returned to the city about midnight, much pleased with their visit.

COMMITTED FOR VAGRANCY.—Patrick Monahan, who was arrested on Sunday for throwing the Express train on the Pennsylvania Railroad off the track, was committed to jail yesterday by the Mayor, for thirty days, for vagrancy. No information has yet been made against him, nor is it probable that any will be until the conclusion of the Coroner's investigation. Yesterday he was visited in his cell by a gentleman to whom he stated that he was born in the county Donegal, Ireland, and that he has been in this country about two years. He also said that he had been working as a laborer on a railroad, in the employ of a contractor named Langdon, but he could not or would not tell the name of the railroad. He admitted to seeing the train run off the track, and said that there were two men with him at the time, but when asked their names he replied, "I don't know." The police are continuing their search for other suspected parties, and it is probable that more light will be thrown upon the matter at the inquest on Wednesday next.

The Good Templars at Lawrenceville.

An important public meeting of citizens of Lawrenceville came off on Thursday evening, in Robinson's Hall. Major Langdon was called to the chair, and introduced the State Lecturer, J. A. Davidson, of the Good Templars, who gave an address on the subject of temperance. At the close of the lecture, a Lodge of Good Templars, with seventy-seven charter members, was formed, and the following officers elected and installed in due form: Dr. J. J. Covert, W. C. T.; Nellie Ralston, W. V. T.; W. N. Hull, Hull, W. S.; Olive Turney, W. T.; Jennie Cotton, W. I. G.; Gorgus Turner, W. O. G.; Jennie Copeland, W. A. S.; Kate Bingham, R. H. S.; Ella Markle, L. H. S.; D. C. Blakely, W. M.; Annie Jones, W. D. M.; J. M. Covert, W. F. S.; J. A. Geary, P. W. C. T.; G. D. Clowes, W. Chaplain. A number of ladies and gentlemen were present from the Lodges of the Order at Sharpsburg, Allegheny City and Birmingham, and the meeting was one of unusual interest. The members of Lawrenceville Lodge are all well-known and reliable citizens, and the good work has commenced under very favorable auspices.

Death From Appoplexy—Inquest.

Coroner Clawson held an inquest yesterday morning on the body of James W. Algeo, who died suddenly in the Pittsburgh House, in the Diamond. For some time past the deceased had been living a dissipated life. On Thursday afternoon between three and four o'clock he came to the Pittsburgh House in a state of apparent intoxication. About half-past five o'clock, he was found by the bar-keeper, M. W. Meredith, who had been absent for a few moments, sitting back in his chair, with his head on his breast, and breathing with great difficulty. Dr. Geo. L. McCook was called in and found the man laboring under a very severe attack of appoplexy. He was completely paralyzed in all his senses, and died at two o'clock yesterday morning. The Coroner's jury returned a verdict of death from appoplexy. The deceased was a married man and about thirty-four years of age. In the early part of the war he enlisted in Allegheny as a private in Company I, 109th Regiment Pennsylvania Volunteers, and was promoted to a Lieutenancy. He was made a cripple by being wounded in one of the legs, and was compelled to walk on crutches. He had in his possession, when he died, a check signed by Shipton & Wallace, for $125.

The Mountain Scenery of California.

Prof. Brewer, of Yale College, delivered the second of the Young Men's Christian Association course of lectures, last evening, before a very much larger audience than was present on Thursday evening. This course of lectures is now an established success and will undoubtedly be sustained with liberality. The lecture last evening was especially interesting and entertaining, not alone from the fact that it treated upon the most grand and beautiful scenery in the world, far exceeding the renowned views obtained in many parts of Europe, but, also, for the reason that it is this region that will one day in the future be opened up to the world, and become the center of attraction to all tourists, both of our own land and of foreign countries. As presenting more varied, extensive, and imposing scenery than can be found in any other part of the world that has yet been explored. Prof. Brewer was exceeding happy in his descriptions of many scenes obtained among the mountains of the far West, especially so in regard to the Yo Semite Valley. He exhibited a large collection of photographs of this beautiful and picturesque valley. He will be succeeded next week by Prof. Rockwell, on "Coal and Coal Mining."

Inauguration of the Allegheny Soldiers' Library.

The opening of the Allegheny Soldiers' League Library was celebrated last night by a public meeting, held at their hall, No. 73 Federal street, Allegheny. Quite a large number of guests were in attendance, including a large delegation of the Allegheny Council. The meeting was organized by calling Felix R. Brunot, Esq., to preside, and the reporters of the press acting as Secretaries.

The President, after thanking the meeting for the distinguished honor conferred upon him, called upon Rev. John B. Clark, who delivered a fervent prayer.

Col. D. H. Williams, on behalf of the League, gave an interesting history of the objects and purposes of the originators of the League, and its future purposes and aims.

Colonel R. Biddle Roberts was then introduced and addressed the meeting. His speech was listened to with great attention, and abounded with eloquent sentiment.

Rev. Colonel J. B. Clark was next introduced. He said that he was willing to do anything in his power to aid the cause of the League, and hoped to see the Library multiply.

Colonel D. L. Smith followed in a brief and appropriate speech.

J. C. Patterson, Esq., member of Select Council from the Fourth ward, was called upon, and made a few appropriate remarks, stating that his sympathies had always been, and still were with the soldier.

A. Leggate, Esq., being called upon, expressed himself highly pleased with the aims of the League, and said that any good he could do for them would be done with pleasure.

The thanks of the League were returned to those favoring the League with their presence, after which the meeting adjourned.

REMOVAL.—Our enterprising agent at Rochester, J. J. Linnenbrink, has removed from his old stand near the depot into the capacious room, formerly used as a ladies' waiting room, in the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Depot, where he will open a well selected stock of Watches, Clocks, Jewelry, Wall Paper, Books, Stationery and Variety Goods.

RARE GOODS AT EASTERN PRICES.—Mr. Jas. McNally, No. 51 Hand street, just received a large and elegant stock of Broadcloths, Cassimeres, &c., all of the latest spring styles, which he is offering at Eastern prices. This stock is one of the largest and best selected ever offered to the trade in this city, and merchant tailors and others will find it to their decided advantage to call and examine it.

THE GREAT INVENTION.—The sewing machine is entitled to the distinction of a bona fide labor saver. Nevertheless, there is a wide difference between them. The unanimous testimony of all who know is that Wheeler & Wilson's instrument (sold by Wm. Sumner & Co., No. 27 Fifth street, Pittsburgh) works with more ease than any other, makes a stronger and more elastic stitch, and performs all kind of fine ornamental sewing with facility, which other machines do not.

FROM JOHN B. SNEAD, ESQ., BOAT BUILDER.—I have been suffering for twelve years with scrofula, general debility, a severe affection of the throat, &c. I became alarmed in regard to it. After persistent trials of numberless remedies that failed, I placed myself under the care of the Indian Herb Doctor, of 194 Liberty street. His medicine was to me worth many times its weight in gold.
J. B. SNEAD,
Freedom, Pa.

THE BEST TONIC.—Caswell, Mack & Co.'s Combination of Iron, Phosphorated and Calisaya, known as Ferro—Phosphorated Elixir of Calisaya. The Iron restores color to the blood; the Phosphorus renews waste of the nerve tissue, and the Calisaya gives a natural, healthful tone to the digestive organs.

One pint contains the virtue of one ounce of Calisaya, and one teaspoonful a grain of Iron and Phosphorus.

Manufactured by Caswell, Mack & Co., New York. For sale by all druggists. s*

POCKET CUTLERY, POCKET CUTLERY.—The finest and best assorted stock of pocket cutlery west of the mountains can be found at No. 59 Fifth street, under Masonic Hall. If you want a good pocket knife, that is the place; if you want a cheap knife you will find them in abundance. Call and examine their selections, as you are sure to go away pleased. W. N. Ogden, 59 fifth street, under Masonic Hall, agent Pittsburgh Cutlery Company.

AN IMPORTANT CASE IN POINT.—The basis of Dr. Mishler's business transactions, in every instance, is Truth. On this solid foundation he has reared a fabric which will stand for generations to come, and bless the world with its benign influence. Read the testimony of Captain Duff, of East Liberty, published in to-day's COMMERCIAL, concerning the wonderful curative powers of Mishler's Herb Bitters. Here is a feature we cannot overlook. The good doctor does not invite us to visit localities a thousand miles away to find testimony in favor of his unrivalled Family Medicine. Here at our own doors the evidence is being gathered from day to day, that these Bitters are the best health-restoring and invigorating compound extant. Try it. Sold by all respectable druggists throughout the United States and Canadas, etc. Branch House, No. 26 Market street, Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania. Fahnestock & Hotton.

NEW BOOKS RECEIVED THIS WEEK AT PITTOCK'S, OPPOSITE THE POSTOFFICE.—A Journey in Ashango Land, by Du Chaillu; Sut Luvingood's Yarns; Lion in the Path, by John Saunders; Black Sheep, by Edmund Yates; Tent on the Beach, by Whittier; Open Polar Sea, by Hayes; Famous Americans of Recent Times, by Patton; Sybil's Second Love, by Julia Kavanah.

I HAVE been troubled with dyspepsia for many years. I was almost reduced to a skeleton with it. Since commencing using the Indian Herb Doctor's treatment, I have gained twelve pounds, and I am perfectly cured.
A. MCLUCKIE, French's Landing.

When I applied to the Indian Herb Doctor, of 194 Liberty street, I could hardly walk a single block. I had the consumption. I have gained seven pounds of flesh in two weeks. My coughing and spitting are gone, and I am able to attend to my business.
EZRA ESTLE,
Allegheny City.

Mr. Thomas Garvin, watchman at the Outer Station of the P. C. R. R. has been troubled with nervous debility and dyspepsia. May be referred to.

Wonderful but True.

Dr. Keyser has two remedies—PECTORAL SYRUP and BLOOD SEARCHER—one of which has stood the test of more than twenty years' experience; the other has renovated systems broken down and covered with sores, as intolerable and loathsome as have been ever witnessed. These cases live here in Pittsburgh, where the medicines are made. The cures are perfect. The living witnesses walk the streets. Who will say these are not facts? and if they are facts are they not worthy the attention of those who are sick? and those who are well—the former, that they may get cured; the latter, that they may know how to get cured, if they should get sick?

We see a man, often, who more than five years ago, was told to make ready, that consumption would end his career in less than two weeks. He took Dr. Keyser's Pectoral Syrup, under our advice, and he is hale and strong, and the very picture of robust health.

We meet an acquaintance, a lady, on the streets occasionally. She was a doomed woman four years ago; yet, in spite of the verdict, she lives on, in good health. Consumption was supposed to have nearly finished its work in her, but no—she took DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP, and got well. There are hundreds of others, but these are remarkable cases, and are referred to as they arose to our mind in writing.

The case of Mr. Boyd, of this city, is a remarkable one, as regards the wonderful power of our BLOOD SEARCHER. He is a healthy man now, and a useful member of society, and does as much labor as any one of his years. That of Miss McFarland is another wonderful cure—for seven years she could not wear shoes on her feet; her whole body was covered with ulcers. Dr. KEYSER'S BLOOD SEARCHER cured her, and she lives to prove its efficacy, at least in her case, with grateful remembrance. We could occupy a whole newspaper with the recital of cures, both by DR. KEYSER'S PECTORAL SYRUP and BLOOD SEARCHER, but do not care about doing so. If our readers desire to know more about the medicines, let them call at the Doctor's store, in Wood street, or at his consultation rooms, 120 Penn street.

Boy's Clothing.

New arrival of Boy's, Youth's and Children's Fancy Clothing, for Spring and Summer wear, in great variety of styles, on hand at the Star of the West Clothing Hall, No. 169 corner of St. Clair and Liberty streets. A. Aronson, Merchant Tailor.

HOW TO SAVE MONEY.—The art of making money, or getting rich, consists in saving it. This is just as true in regard to your purchases as it is in putting money into the bank. Take for example the great sale at retail of Boots, Shoes, Balmorals, Gaiters, Slippers, Dry Goods, Hoop Skirts, Carpets, etc., which takes place to-day and to-night at McClelland's Emporium, Nos. 55 and 57 Fifth street. Here is an opportunity afforded to buy goods for yourself or your family at low rates. This, then, is the proper place for every man to patronize who would save money. Go and examine the stock, and be convinced of the correctness of our statement and the soundness of our advice.

A FREE EXHIBITION OF THIRTY REAL INDIANS.—About thirty Indians passed through our city yesterday, westward bound from Washington city, but they were unable to call at the Broadway Exchange, which is now open, at the corner of Fifth and Smithfield streets, where a free exhibition is given of the fine stock of imported wines, liquors, cigars and tobacco. At the Broadway you can also get the best cooked and cleanest meal in the city. Everybody you meet appears to be pleased to know that they are now open at the corner.

MR. W. MILLER says:

PITTSBURGH, September 4, 1866.
Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.:

GENTS: I think I am only doing the part of a good citizen when I testify to the great benefits received by me from the use of your Stomach Bitters during the last five years. Sojourning for a time in the oil regions, in 1861, I had a severe billious attack, which, in connection with dyspepsia, left me in a very weak condition. I was advised to try your Bitters, and, having procured a bottle, found that they worked like a charm upon me, eight pounds having been added to my weight in the space of one week, and new life seemed to have been infused into my system, so much so, that I have been induced to use them every summer since that time. As a tonic, I think they are invaluable. This summer, having had a similar attack, (and as before, much reduced,) although under the treatment of an A No. 1 physician, I was again obliged to have resource to the old Bitters, and with the same good result, having gained six pounds within a few days. I purchased a half dozen bottles a few weeks since, and purpose to use them regularly as a tonic. Wishing you every success, I remain yours, gratefully,
WILLIAM MILLER.

FINANCE AND TRADE.

FRIDAY EVENING, April 12th, 1867.

The agitation which the flash of war-like news by the cable produced in the markets has well nigh subsided. It was most sensibly felt in the gold and produce markets. Though probably a great majority of readers think immediate war unlikely, still it being proverbially true that capital is cowardly, there is little disposition to enter on enterprises requiring an investment of much capital that must rely on the future for its return of profit. Business that was depressed before the circulation of the threatening reports from France and Prussia is now still more unsettled. There is a belief, which is steadily strengthening, whether well or ill-founded, that almost all prices are tending gradually but surely to lower figures. This prompts the prudent to economy and to the payment of debts as the best use to which money can be applied. As a consequence, the stock market, which is ever first in showing the tendency of prices, is very heavy—more sellers than buyers—and to effect sales, with some few exceptions, a reduction in prices from day to day is necessary.

—The following is a statement of the approximate earnings of the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway Company during the month past, compared with the same period last year:

—A New York correspondent of the 10th inst., writes:

"The cause of the large fall in stocks to-day is owing to a rapidly increasing belief that a general shrinkage of value of all marketable commodities will ensue during the summer months. Our merchants are disappointed at the unfavorable condition of spring trade. Country dealers are not responding with their usual promptness; the Banks here are besieged by all classes of merchants asking for unusual lines of discount on long time paper, and, as a result, people throw overboard their stocks, Bonds and Governments, in order to raise means to meet their other liabilities.

"The stock market will probably ... from this sudden and severe fall, for the reason that the market may be oversold somewhat; but as soon as the shorts cover, unless the present financial and commercial clouds pass quickly away, prices will naturally fall off again."

—The Tribune says: Pacific Mail continues steady, on telegrams from Albany that the report of the Investigating Committee would be favorable. People are looking with some curiosity for its appearance, and are anxious to know how far the committee have examined into the real state of the concern, the character of its loans, condition of its cash assets, &c. Lumping statements of forty millions ($40,000,000) for the value of the property, and eight millions ($8,000,000) of cash assets will not be considered satisfactory, unless the report shows an acute and vigorous investigation, and a complete statement of the items from which figures are obtained. Neither would it be well for the public to take the report of the committee for granted, as searching questions, which must be answered, will be asked by parties who are opposed to whitewashing.

—The Directors of the Cleveland and Pittsburgh Railroad Company have determined to call a meeting of shareholders to consider the propriety of making an issue of stock to represent a large amount of earnings used in construction. The property, from an exclusive use of earnings in construction, is stated to be in fine condition, and able to earn in future regular dividends upon the old and proposed new shares. It is out of debt, and its friends are sanguine of regular dividends now that it is operating for itself, and not with a view of consolidation with another line.

—Reports from all sections of the Union concerning the condition of the growing crops are in the highest degree encouraging. The fall sowings have apparently successfully weathered the severe Northern winter, and no complaints from frost are heard. A few more such pleasant days as we are now experiencing will enable the husbandmen to definitely ascertain the condition of their fall crops. In Missouri and adjoining States we are told that the wheat crop never looked more promising. During the winter the planters of Alabama, Louisiana, Mississippi and Arkansas have secured large numbers of field hands, and are making preparations to cultivate a wide area of territory. The fact that the cotton crop of last year has proved to be much larger than was anticipated, affords general encouragement to the Southern growers. A correspondent, who has made an agricultural tour of Georgia, writes that the planters, though they may cultivate less this year than formerly, will yet devote much more care and skill to the preparation of the soil. There is, he says, no better evidence of the earnestness and faith of the planters than the piles of sacks and barrels of guano, phosphates, plaster, &c., which are daily arriving at the various depots on consignments.

—The copper mining companies in the United States number one hundred and eleven, and $14,555,500 has been paid into their coffers by sanguine owners of shares. Only eight of the companies have ever paid dividends; the aggregate of these, up to the 1st instant, being $5,830,000. But they have been a quarter of a century about it. Of these companies, fifty-one have their location in Boston, of which three have paid dividends; thirty-six in New York, of which three also have paid dividends; nine in Pittsburgh, of which two have paid dividends; fourteen in Philadelphia, of which none have paid dividends; and one in Chicago, which, in the matter of dividends, is as barren as Philadelphia.

—There is a continued increase in the demand for mining stocks, which have of late been so unusually depressed, and the orders to purchase are in excess of those to sell. We note an advance in Huron of ¾, which sold at 11 regular. Franklin improved 1 per share, closing at 19½ cash, 20 buyer 30. The accounts from this mine, we hear, are very good, and the annual report will be issued in a few days. Copper Falls was 3½ per share higher.

The following were the closing prices for the principal mining shares: Bay State 4¾ offered; Canada 50c asked; Concord 2½ offered; Copper Falls 22¼@23¼; Franklin 19@20; Hancock 4½@5; Humboldt 1@1½; Huron, aas't paid, 10¾@11; Minnesota 9 asked; National 7 offered; Petherick 2 offered; Pewabic 15¼@16; Quincy 22@28; Rockland 7¾@8; South Side 2 asked; Star ½@1¾; St. Clair, ass't paid, 4½ offered; Superior 1¾ offered; Winthrop ¾@1.—Boston Advertiser, Wednesday.

PRODUCE AND GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY EVENING, April 12, 1867.

The general markets to-day were a little more active than yesterday. The flour market is very firm and active as orders are coming in from all parts of the country for large amounts. Many dealers have sold ahead of receipts. The grain market is generally active, except in wheat, which is in such limited receipt that there is nothing but a nominal market here. There is a good demand for groceries, bacon and lard. A general review of our other markets will be found under another head.

The receipts of leading articles of produce, per river and railroad, since our last, were as follows: Flour, 1,514 bbls; apples, 180 bbls; cheese, 14 boxes; corn, 1,548 sacks; barley, 235 sacks; rye, 30 sacks; oats, 800 sacks, and butter 98 packages.

APPLES—We note sales of 11 barrels at $5 50@6 00 and 25 barrels at $4 50@5 ℔ barrel.

ASHES—Sales reported of 5 tons Pearls at 14c, and firm at the advance; Soda Ash, 20 tons common at 5½c; Soda Ash, refined, 5¾ ℔ ℔. and Potash at 8½c ℔ ℔.

BEANS—Prime Navy are quoted from store at $2 75@3 ℔ busuel.

BUTTER—We note sales of 600 ℔s choice Butter at 35@38c ℔ ℔: 10 boxes do at 35@40c, and 30 packages common at 25@30c ℔ ℔.

BACON AND LARD—Sales from packers at 16c for Sugar Cured Hams; 11½c for Sugar Cured Shoulders; 13c for Clear Sides; 12c for Rib Sides; 10@10½c for plain Shoulders; 16½@17c for canvassed Sugar Cured Hams and 13¼@13½c ℔ ℔ for city leaf.

CHEESE.—Sales of Hamburg were made at 18c; Goshen 22@22½c, and W. R. at 16c ℔ ℔.

EGGS—Prices are higher. Sales of 3 bbls at 24c, and 17 bbls at 23c ℔ bbl, reported.

FLOUR—Choice brands of spring are quoted at $14 50@14 75 ℔ bbl. We note sales of 10 bbls Clipper brand at $15 75, and 50 bbls of Liberty street Mills at $14 50 ℔ bbl. Market very active and stocks light.

GRAIN—Prices for wheat are entirely nominal, as the receipts are quite small and there is hardly any in store. No. 2 Spring may be quoted at $2 80@2 90 ℔ bushel.

CORN—We note sales of 240 bushels shelled on the wharf at 98c ℔ bushel.

OATS—Sales from store were made at 70c ℔ bush.

HAY—On the wharf 3 tons baled sold at $25 00 ℔ ton.

HOMINY—Sales were made from store at 3½c ℔ ℔.

LIME—We quote white lime worth $2 00 ℔ bbl.

LEAD—Sales 1,000 pigs lead at 10½c ℔ ℔ reported.

OIL BARRELS—We quote 40 gallon prime oil barrels worth $2 15, and 40@45 gallon barrels $2 30@2 35, cash.

STAVES—We quote river rough ℔M, $29 00; Western dressed, with headings, $36 00; do do jointed, $42 00; do unjointed dry, $40 00, and do do jointed, $45 00 ℔ M.

MAPLE SYRUP—We note sales of 25 jugs at $1 50 ℔ gallon.

POTATOES—We note sales of 50 bbls P. B. at $3 00; 1 car load do, on the track, at 90c ℔ bushel; 1 car do at $1 00 ℔ bushel, and Buckeyes at $4 25 ℔ bbl.

FIRE BRICK—We quote Apollo fire brick No. 1, at $50 00 ℔ M, and No. 2 $37 50 ℔ M, delivered on the railroad track, and Bolivar, on the track, $35 00 ℔ M.

SEED—Clover seed is getting scarce, and sold from store at $13 00@13 50 ℔ bushel, as to quantity and quality. Flaxseed is quoted at $2 90, and Timothy seed at $3 25 ℔ bushel.

IRON, COPPER, STEEL FRUIT AND OTHER MARKETS.

WEEKLY REVIEW

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURG COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY EVENING, April 12, 1867.

IRON—We see no reason to alter our report as to dullness of the market. The Nail Mills in Wheeling, owing to some little activity occurring, have started some of them having stocks of puddled bar on hand. As far as this is the case, the labor question cannot be said to be affected. On inquiry we find the condition of affairs among our home mills is unchanged. As to rumors, there are plenty of them every day, now that the hands and again that the employers are about giving way. Therefore, street talk is wholly unreliable. So far as we can learn, to-day, there is positively no change whatever in the status of the labor question. Such mills as are puddling are at work upon special articles, such as have always been paid for at several dollars per ton more than usual work. But we hear of no mills, here, that have resumed operations at the old rates. There is, therefore, no ground upon which to base an impression of any change in the views of the employers.

BLOOMS, &C.—We have reported sales of

50 tons No. 1 Josephine at	$52 00—cash.
20 " No. 2 do	49 00—cash.
20 " No. 1 Juniata	105 00—cash.
100 " Muck Bar	76 00—cash.

The following table exhibits the value of Metals, exported from England to the United States, during the years 1865-6, as shown by the returns of the British Board of Trade:

	1865.	1866.
Iron, Pig and Puddled	$1,058,240	$1,577,075

Steel, unwrought	1,833,415	3,465,065
Total	$7,725,175	$15,176,569

Ryland's Iron Trade Circular of March 23, 1867, gives the following Liverpool Prices: British Staple Articles—Copper, ℔ cwt, S. Bolts, &c., 4l 6s; Tile, ℔ cwt, 4l 2s; Iron, Bar, ℔ ton, 6l 2s to 6l 15s; Hoop, inch, &c., 8l 5s to 9l 5s; Nail Rods, 7l 5s to 7l 15s; Sheet, single to No. 20, 9l 5s to 9l 15s; Pig, Scotch (in Glas.), 2l 14s 6d to 3l 6s; N. Wales, 4l; S. Wales (in Wales) 4l to 4l 10s; Lead, Pig, ℔ ton, 20l to 20l 5s; Sheet, ℔ ton, 21l 10s; Shot, patent, 23l 10s; White, dry, 28l; Red, 21l 10s; Tin, Block, ℔ cwt common, 4l 10s; Tin Plates, Coke, I C, 24s 6d to 25s; Coke, I G, 30s 6d to 32s 6d; Charcoal, I C, 30s to 34s; Charcoal, I G, 36s to 40s.

STEEL—Complaints are universal of a continued dullness in the trade. Like the iron business, the present spring trade in steel has been more depressed and unsatisfactory then manufacturers and dealers have experienced for many years, if ever before. Prices remain unchanged.

GLASS—The market is dull, and for most articles entirely lifeless. Prices have not undergone any change for a long time. There is a good assortment of all kinds on the market.

COPPER—There is a trifle better trade doing in copper, and compared with the iron and steel market, it may be considered really active. Quotations unchanged.

TIN, ROOFING, &C.—The market is moderately active at former prices.

HARDWARE—The general trade in hardware is active; the business of the present week has more than doubled on the previous one. The market is well supplied, and dealers can satisfactorily fill all orders at prices as favorable to buyers as are offered in any other market in the country.

The boot and shoe trade is not very active, although the market is well stocked with all assortments, offered at prices sufficient to induce trade, in preference to any other quoted market.

PLOWS—At present there is a more active demand for plows, than there has been for many years, and in fact, in the opinion of large manufacturers, like Hall & Speer, it is as brisk as they have ever known it, and far exceeds their anticipations of the last few months. Articles coming under this head, are so numerous that it is almost impossible to give quotations of the numerous kinds of articles manufactured in this market, not only for the home trade, but for supplying nearly the entire South. Prices in this line of goods generally remain unchanged throughout.

HATS AND CAPS—There is, at present, a very active trade doing, at prices more favorable to purchasers than to dealers. There is an excellent assortment, of all the latest styles, on the market.

ALES—There is an active demand for old standard brands of ales, like Carson, Darlington & Co.'s; Phœnix Brewery, &c. Such firms have an excellent supply on hand, and can fill all orders at card prices, which have not changed for the past several months.

CRACKERS—Prices, on account of the flour, have been considerably advanced. Marvin and other manufactures are well prepared to fill orders to any extent at the lowest prices.

TOBACCO—The market remains unchanged.

LUMBER—There is quite a demand for yard lumber. Yards are abundantly stocked to fill all orders. The receipts, as yet, from the Allegheny river pine regions have been very limited. There has, however, been a late general rise in all the streams tributary to the Allegheny river, and vast quantities of lumber are now on the way to this and other markets on the lower rivers. This will likely commence arriving here in the early part of next week. Prices from yards have not changed for some time past.

Soap and Candles are in moderate demand at former prices. The fruit market is not very active, but well supplied with all kinds both foreign and domestic, at former quotations, excepting Oranges which are higher. Goods coming under the head of Manilla, Hemp, &c., are quite active at last quotations.

DRY GOODS—The market this week is active and the trade are looking for extensive transactions during the next week.

PITTSBURGH DRUG MARKET.

OFFICE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY, April 12, 1867.

The market is quiet and the changes, since our last, unimportant. They are as follows: Whale oil, $1 25@1 35 ℔ gallon; Potass Iodide, $5 90@6 10 ℔ ℔; Soda, Bi Carb., 9½@10½c ℔ ℔, and Spirits Turpentine, 94c@$1 02 ℔ gal.

PITTSBURGH DRY GOODS MARKET.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, FRIDAY, April 12, 1867.

This department of trade in our city is now very active, and Wood street is alive with business, and the welcome sight of dry goods boxes filling the pavement evidence the extent of the trade being done.

Goods are cheap without any disposition to sacrifice, although manufacturers are not making much profit. The city has been full of merchants, and jobbers look for a good trade next week. Prices are as follows:

New York Finance and Trade.

Gold Closed at 136¾@136¼.

NEW YORK, April 12—P. M.

THE MONEY MARKET

Continues easy.

GOLD

Is little affected by the warlike news from Europe. The effect seems to have been discounted. Napoleon's reply is awaited with interest. The market closed weak at 136¾@136¼.

GOVERNMENTS

Firm and more active. Registered '81, 109@109¼; Coupons '81, 109@109½; 5-20s, registered '62, 103¾@104; Coupons '62, 109⅜@109¾; do '64, 107¾@108; do '65, 108@108⅛; August 7-30s, 106@106⅛; June and July, 105⅝@105⅞.

THE RAILWAY MARKET.

Opened more active and higher, with Central at 100¼; Erie, 55½; Pittsburgh, 69; Old Southern 68¼; Rock Island, 87¼; Northwestern common, 32⅝. At the first open board prices fell ¾@½ per cent. from the street rates. The decline was recovered at the Stock Exchange, Erie selling at 56. After session the market was firm and the highest prices of the morning were sustained. At the 1 o'clock board prices were better, and after call Erie rose to 57. The whole market was strong. At the Second Board lower prices were made, except on Pacific, which advanced to 129. Erie touched 57½. At the last open board the market was all lower at the close, especially on New York Central.

CLOSING PRICES.

Wm. Heath & Co. report the following prices at 5:30 P. M.: Gold 136¾@136½; Ohio certificates, 24½@24¾; Canton, 43@43½; Cumberland, 28½@30; Quicksilver, 27½@29; Mariposa, preferred, 21½@22; Western Union, 38@38¾; New York Central, 98⅜@98⅝; Erie, 56⅝@56¾; Hudson, 131; Reading, 98⅜@98¾; Michigan Southern, 67⅝@67¾; Illinois Central, 114⅞@114⅞; Pittsburgh, 68⅝@68⅞; Rock Island, 87¼@87¼; Northwestern, 32½@32⅝; preferred, 60⅜@60½; Fort Wayne, 92⅛@92⅜.

THE RIVER AND MATTERS ALONG THE WHARF.—The weather yesterday was very pleasant. Business on the wharf was moderately active. Trade above the bridge was pretty active. The up freights were the largest we have noticed for some time. The tow-boat Sam Roberts departed yesterday with 7 barges, containing 75,000 bushels coal. The Coal Valley, with 9 barges, left for Cincinnati, with 100,000 bushels. The Arrow left for Louisville with 7 barges, containing 75,000 bushels of coal. The Ida Rees, Captain J. Brown, leaves this day positively, for Cincinnati. The Parkersburg packet for this day is the sidewheel steamer Grey Eagle, Captain Brennan. The fine packet Lorena is announced for Cairo and St. Louis. The Leonora No. 2 left for Nashville with a good trip. The fine steamer America is the only boat loading for New Orleans. The Columbia is the only boat loading for the Upper Mississippi.

THE steamer Ida Rees, Captain J. Brown, will positively leave for Cincinnati and Louisville on Saturday. This can be relied on. To persons going that way the present opportunity should not be neglected.

THE tow-boat Tigress passed Cairo on her way to this city on the 10th, with a tow of empty barges.

THE steamer Ruth made the run from Memphis to Cairo in nineteen hours and twenty minutes.

THE steamer Longworth made her trip from New Orleans to Louisville in six days and ten hours.

THE steamers Kenton and Belle Vernon passed Evansville on the 10th.

THE Westmoreland, Captain Evans, was announced to leave Cincinnati for New Orleans yesterday.

THE steamer Robert Moore, Captain Kerr, left for Portsmouth with a good trip.

THE river was rising at Cincinnati, with 25½ feet in the channel to Louisville.

THE steamers Glasgow and Sherman arrived at Cincinnati on Wednesday.

THE Leni Leoti, Captain Hamilton, left yesterday for Parkersburg with a good trip.

THE Parkersburg packet for this day is the steamer Grey Eagle, an excellent boat, in charge of Captain C. L. Brennan, a careful and attentive officer.

THE steamers Sherman, Glasgow and Argosy were advertised to leave Cincinnati for this port on Friday.

THE side-wheel steamer Telegraph is offered for sale. She is in good order and will be sold at a bargain. For particulars see our advertising columns.

THE fine packet Columbia, Captain Reed, is announced for the Upper Mississippi. This boat is well found in every respect, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers.

THE Camelia left Cincinnati for the Tennessee river on Wednesday, with a good trip. Captain Coffin, with his usual generosity, takes two hundred sacks of corn for the Alabama sufferers, free of all charge.

THURSDAY'S Cincinnati Gazette says: The steamer Ezra Porter cleared for Pittsburgh yesterday noon, having on board 250 hogsheads of bacon and 200 barrels of pork, the largest cargo of the kind shipped to Pittsburgh on any one steamer in two years.

THE steamer Ida Rees, Captain Joseph Browne, will take the place of the steamer Maggie Hays as the regular Saturday Cincinnati and Louisville packet, and will leave at five o'clock P. M. Saturday, positively.

THE favorite packet Ida Rees, Captain Joseph Brown, is announced for Cincinnati and Louisville. This boat will go through certain without reshipping. She is well found in every respect, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. A word to the wise is sufficient.

THE splendid passenger steamer Lorena, Captain S. Shuman, is announced for Cairo and St. Louis. This boat has very superior accommodations, and is in charge of careful and experienced officers. To persons going that way a fine opportunity is presented.

THE new and splendid passenger steamer Glendale, J. M. Hare commander, is announced as an independent packet for St. Louis and the Missouri river. This boat has very superior accommodations, and is in charge of careful and attentive officers. Our old friend Mellon does the honors in the office.

IT is thought the Mercury can be raised as soon as the river falls. She now lies in fifty feet of water in Arkansas Cut-off. The water is fifteen feet over her hurricane roof. Some forty-two bales of cotton have been saved from the wreck, and one hundred and fifty are still on board.

IMPORTANT RESOLUTION.—At a meeting of the directors of the St. Louis Merchants' Exchange, held Monday, the following was adopted: Resolved, That for the protection of banks and commission merchants making advances on shipments, the officers of all steamers giving bills of lading at this port be and are hereby requested to stamp or sell lading original and all others given for the same shipment duplicate.

SUIT AGAINST THE HILLMAN DECIDED AT CINCINNATI.—The Commercial says: The public will no doubt remember that on the morning of the 23d of February, 1866, the C. E. Hillman and Nannie Byers collided, near Madison, Indiana, by which the latter boat, while descending, was sunk and proved a total loss. Her owners at once instituted suit for damages, and the case has been pending until a few days ago, when the owners of the Hillman compromised the matter by paying the owners of the Nannie Byers $18,500, and the suit was dismissed at defendant's cost.

THE Cincinnati Enquirer says: The new line of steamers between this city and St. Louis is now a fixture. It is composed of the Champion, Nightingale, Shamrock, New York and Melnotte, all substantial boats, and affording the best of accommodations to passengers, and commanded by experienced steamboatmen and clever gentlemen. Captain J. Alex. Frazier, noted for his urbanity, is the Superintendent of the new line. The Nightingale will be the first boat out, leaving this evening.

MADISON, April 9.—The Richmond having left for New Orleans, the editors of the Louisville Courier and Democrat are reduced one-half. We'll send another Madison-built steamer to them after a while. An old lady near the ship-yards says the reporters of the Louisville papers are like chicken cocks—they crow over the work of others. ... steamer Sherman for the transportation from Cairo to Madison of the machinery of the new St. Louis and Quincy packet Tom Jasper.—Courier.

ST. LOUIS, April 10.—River rising at the rate of an inch per hour. The rise in the Missouri continues. The Upper Mississippi and tributaries are rapidly rising. A freshet is looked for above. Business on the levee increasing. The Atlantic Line steamers Mollie Able, Luminary, Forsyth, Mississippi and Atlantic, have laid up here for want of business. Freight scarce for all points on the Missouri below St. Joseph, but passengers numerous. The St. Louis and Quincy Packet company, a new organization, have bought the Mollie McPike for $26,300. Mr. Cutting, of Metropolis, will build for William M. McPherson, of St. Louis, the hull of a New Orleans packet; length, 284 feet; beam, 45 feet; hold, 9 feet. The new boat will have the engines of the Baltic.

ST. LOUIS ITEMS from Wednesday's Republican: We learn that Capt. Wm. M. McPherson has closed a contract with A. Catting, boat builder of Metropolis, for the hull of a new and mammoth side-wheel steamer for the New Orleans trade. It is to be 286 feet long, 45 feet beam, with 9 feet depth of hold. The engines of the steamer Baltic will be placed in the new boat. This new steamer will be of nearly 1,200 tons custom house measurement.

The tow boat Wild Duck has arrived from Pittsburgh with a tow of two model barges loaded with assorted merchandise.

The little side-wheel steamer Helen has been sold for $5,000 to Messrs. Brown & Co., stave manufacturers, at Birmingham, on the Tennessee river.

The Ida Stockdale, Capt. Grant Master, leaves to-morrow for Fort Benton, and will be followed promptly by the Luella and Carrie.

The elegant steamer Guidon, Capt. James L. Bissell, Sam De Bow clerk, having her cargo all engaged, will leave without fail at noon to-morrow for Fort Benton.

DEATH OF AN EMINENT STEAMBOAT BUILDER.—Thursday's Cincinnati Commercial says: Yesterday we received a telegram from Captain Lew Morris, announcing the sad intelligence of the death of Capt. Alex. F. Temple, the well-known pioneer boat builder of Cincinnati and Madison. He died yesterday, at 9:15 A. M., in the sixty-first year of his age. The deceased was extensively known all along the line of the Western and Southern waters, as an old and experienced boat builder. He came to Cincinnati about 1830, and has been engaged in his profession here and at Madison ever since, being the cotemporary of the late Archy Gordon, Burton Hazen, Saunders W. Hartshorne, Daniel Morton and John Johnston. If we are not much mistaken, he succeeded the late Archy Gordon in Cincinnati. During the summer of 1836, while foreman for Saunders Hartshorne, he put false sides on the old Columbus, for Capt. Henry A. Jones, the first steamer the latter ever commanded. He subsequently built the Madison, Ohio Belle and the Queen of the West, at Madison, for Capt. Jones, and the Mediator, Gen. Scott, and J. M. Niles, here, for Capt. John A. Williamson and Hiram Hawley. He built a number of splendid steamers, including several for the St. Louis and Keokuk Packet Company, together with a brig or barque for John Swassey & Co. He likewise lengthened and gracefully remodelled the steamer St. Charles, his last work being the supervision of the mammoth and splendid low-pressure Richmond. He was noted for his professional skill, quiet unassuming demeanor, and sterling integrity. Last week he visited Cincinnati, and was enjoying perfect health. He now sleeps in eternity. The colors of the steamers in port to-day, will be displayed at half mast in respect to the memory of the deceased.
